Soviet Mission Under Siege In Frankfurt Bows To U.S. Order

Red Mission In Frankfurt Bows To U.S. Blockade

Ordered Out Of Frankfurt By Soviet After Several Days Siege

RUSSIA ACTS IN RETALIATION MOVE

By TOM AGOSTON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FRANKFURT, March 4.—An eight-man Soviet repatriation mission bowed to a U. S. Army "miniature blockade" today and left Frankfurt shortly after Russian officials ousted an American graves-registration team in reprisal.

The Red army men—subjects of the latest east-west squabble—left their 14-room mansion in the U. S. zone peacefully at 6:30 a. m. (12:30 a. m. EST). They were escorted to Helmstedt, astride the German zonal boundary, by the regular Soviet army mission.

Expel U. S. Commission
Russians authorities authorized the beleaguered repatriation party to withdraw in compliance with Gen. Lucius D. Clay's directive, but simultaneously expelled the American graves registration personnel from East Germany. Only four GI's—all of whom were escorted to Berlin last night—were affected by the decree.

The departure of the repatriation group's three cars and two trucks early this morning marked the end of a dispute which had repercussions in Washington, Berlin and Moscow, and resulted in a "shoe is on the other foot" blockade of the Soviets.

Gen. Clay had ordered the eight soldiers to leave Western Germany, on the grounds that their work was finished and that Russians remaining in the U. S.-occupied Reich had no desire to go to the USSR.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov demanded rescinding of the order and accused all the western powers of hampering Soviet repatriation from Germany. No orders to leave were given the eight Russians, who remained in Frankfurt beyond Gen. Clay's deadline last Tuesday night.

Over 3,000,000 Are Reported Jobless In U.S. In February

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—The government announced today that unemployment in the United States reached a new post-war high last month when 3,221,000 Americans were jobless.

The census bureau reported that 557,000 persons were added to the unemployment rolls in February as the number of non-workers climbed sharply for the second consecutive month.

The bureau attributed the upswing in unemployment last month largely to "bad weather in certain sections of the country and by other seasonal developments". It added:

"However, a continuation of the non-essential lay-offs noted last month (January) probably accounted for a large part of the change. In spite of substantial increases in recent months, unemployment in February was still low relative to pre-war levels."

The bureau tempered its announcement by pointing out that as late as 1941 monthly unemployment averaged 5,500,000—a about one of every 10 persons in the civilian labor force.

Soviet Mission Evacuates Blockaded Frankfurt Quarters

Col. Sterling A. Wood (right), provost marshal of Frankfurt, Germany, stands by as the Soviet repatriation mission drives out of its blockaded mansion early today and heads for Russian zone border. In retaliation for being forced to leave, Russians ordered all American graves registration teams to leave the Soviet zone of Germany.

Women Workers Open Drive For Red Cross Fund

Over Hundred At Opening Meeting Thursday—Campaign Now Under Way

Over one hundred women workers for the 1949 Red Cross fund campaign opened their division drive at a luncheon meeting at The Castleton hotel Thursday noon.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy A. Long who is being ably assisted by Mrs. Floyd Perrine and Mrs. Ethel Rentz Ferver, the interest and enthusiasm of this group of women promises to be an inspiration for the entire campaign organization.

The American Male Chorus, a group of ex-servicemen who are staying at the hotel, while giving a series of concerts in New Castle, came into the meeting and entertained.

Denmark May Discuss Atlantic Pact Entry Soon

COPENHAGEN, March 4.—(INS)—The Danish Parliament's Foreign Relations Committee voted today to send Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen to Washington to discuss Denmark's possible entrance into the North Atlantic Pact.

The Danish move followed quickly the Norwegian Parliament's rejection of Soviet offers of a non-aggression pact and decision to seek alliance with the West.

The committee's decision must be referred to the full Parliament for approval.

It is understood that the Social Democratic, Agrarian and Conservative parties are united in supporting Danish entry into the discussions.

Gen. Eichelberger Called To Service

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, famed World War II commander, today joined the list of top officers emerging from retirement to aid in formulating Japanese occupation policy.

Army Secretary Royall announced that Eichelberger, who commanded ground troops in northern and central Japan at the outset of the occupation, has returned to duty as consultant to Assistant Secretary Tracy Voorhees.

Former President Of Yale Dies Today

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 4.—(INS)—Dr. James Rowland Angell, president-emeritus of Yale University, died at his New Haven home this morning. He was 79.

Dr. Angell, who retired in 1937 as president of the university had been ill for some time.

Student Nurses Will Be Capped

Pre-clinical Class At Jameson Memorial Hospital To Be Honored, March 11

RECEPTION WILL FOLLOW PROGRAM

Members of the pre-clinical class of student nurses at the Jameson Memorial hospital, who have successfully completed their six months probationary period, will be formally accepted into the hospital's school of nursing, with capping exercises in the Epworth Methodist church, next Friday evening, March 11, at 8 o'clock. There are 38 young women in the class.

Beautiful candle light exercises are planned, when the nurses will be capped by Miss Rachel Ellen Long, director of the School of Nursing.

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church will give the address of the evening, and the student chorus, which is directed by David D. Rees will present a group of choral numbers.

Members of the local chapter of Gideons will present each girl with a nurse's white testament.

Following the conclusion of the program, there will be a reception at the Nurses Home, adjoining the hospital.

Labor Committee Of Senate Votes Taft-Hartley Repeal

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—The Senate Labor committee by a straight party vote of eight to five today formally approved the administration's Taft-Hartley repeal bill.

The committee voted after ruling out Republican efforts to offer amendments.

Senator Taft (R) Ohio, called the majority action "the most high handed procedure any committee has ever engaged in since I have been a member of the Senate."

Other Republicans termed the majority refusal to even consider other amendments "shocking."

Governor Duff Announces Home Building Plan

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—A $10,000 ceiling on the construction of low rental dwellings to be built under a private program primed by an outright $15,000,000 state grant was announced today by Gov. James H. Duff.

The units, the governor said, would command rentals ranging from $40 to $70. Veterans and veterans' families would be given preference.

The size of the dwellings has not been fixed, the governor said, but he made it clear rentals in urban areas would greatly exceed those in the so-called rural sections of the state.

The pump priming construction program has been designed by Duff to attract about a $35,000,000 investment from private builders. The state's money will not have to be refunded.

Johnson Named By President As Defense Secretary

Appointed Successor To James V. Forrestal As Forecast Thursday

CONFIRMATION BY SENATE IS CERTAIN

By JAMES LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Military experts agreed today that appointment of Louis A. Johnson as defense secretary is a stride toward dynamic leadership for American long-range air power in the atomic age.

Prompt senate confirmation of the former assistant secretary of war is regarded as a foregone conclusion. This was indicated in comment of both Democratic and Republican senators.

President Truman's choice of Johnson as successor to James V. Forrestal, who leaves the cabinet March 31, dramatically followed the first non-stop flight around the world, completed Tuesday by a B-50 Superbomber.

As assistant secretary of war from 1937 to 1940, Johnson was a fiery advocate of air strength. He backed plans for the B-17 Superfort, from which the more powerful B-29 and the B-50 were developed.

Separate Air Force
Johnson was an early advocate of a separate air force and maintained that its strength should not be controlled by cost. In a confidential letter to President Roosevelt, dated May 15, 1940, Johnson declared:

B. H. Kannenberg Dies In California

Former Superintendent Of American Can Company Dies At Santa Ana

Word was received here today of the death of B. H. Kannenberg, aged 72 years, of 2515 Valencia avenue, Santa Ana, California, following a stroke that he suffered on Sunday, sometime Wednesday.

He was for a period of 18 years superintendent of the New Castle plant of the American Can company, and retired in 1942, following a stroke that he suffered on Sunday, sometime Wednesday.

Surviving are his wife, one son, Loren, in New York City and a daughter, Jane, at home.

During his residence in New Castle, the Kannenberg family lived at 428 Winter avenue.

Plan Legislation To Curb Communists

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—Rep. Walter D. Dill, an administration leader, announced today that legislation will be introduced in the house which would strip American citizenship from Communist party leaders.

Walter, chairman of the Democratic caucus, said he would sponsor the legislation as a member of the un-American activities committee. He said it would be drawn up and presented within the next few days.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—Rep. "Wood" (D) Ga., chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, disclosed today that action will begin within a week on stringent legislation to curb the Communist party in the United States.

Wood's announcement served as a counter-blow to the U. S. Communist party's declaration that it would try to defeat the aims of "American imperialism" in event of a war between the United States and Russia.

The declaration was signed by National Chairman William Z. Foster and Secretary Eugene Dennis whom President Truman branded as "traitors."

May Be Forced To Shelve Anti-Filibuster Fight During Coming Week

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Senate leadership today considered the possibility of having to shelve its anti-filibuster fight next week despite President Truman's insistence that it drive through a tighter gag rule.

An informed source admitted privately that the administration forces must pick up some votes before it can cut off debate quickly through a parliamentary maneuver.

The high-ranking Democrat said that unless a drive to get the needed vote is successful while the southern filibuster drags through next week, the leadership may have to brush aside the President's plea and lay the gag-rule aside, at least temporarily.

Would Be Setback
Such a development would be a setback for President Truman, who in a news conference Thursday (Continued on Page Two)

Death Sentences Asked For Four

State Prosecutor In Bulgarian Trials Makes Demands For Verdict

SOFIA, March 4.—(INS)—The state prosecutor today demanded the death sentence for the four leading defendants in the Bulgarian Communist government's trial of 15 protestant ministers.

The three-man Sofia court was asked to return "severe penalties" for the remaining 11 pastors. All 15, members of the United Evangelical Churches, are accused of treason, illegal currency dealings, and spying for the U. S. and Britain.

Chief Prosecutor Dimitar Georgiev demanded "the heaviest punishment"—death—for the four alleged ringleaders of the protestant churches. Under Bulgarian law, his assistant, Tudor Zankov, then completed the prosecution's summation by asking for "severe penalties"—without specifying—for the other 11.

Wife Of Ball Player Has Narrow Escape

Wife Of Robert Van Eman Has Narrow Escape From Their Burning Apartment

MCKEESPORT, Pa., March 4.—(INS)—Damage was estimated today at $5,000 in a fire in which the wife of a minor league baseball player and her child had a narrow escape.

Betty Van Eman, 22, wife of Robert Van Eman, leftfielder for the Birmingham, Ala., farm club of the Boston Red Sox, and her child Roberta were rescued Thursday from their burning apartment by two passersby.

Richard Rodman, who was in the confectionery store downstairs, heard Mrs. Van Eman's screams. He dashed up the stairs in the rear of the building and broke in a door. He was joined by another man whose identity was not learned.

While Rodman carried Mrs. Van Eman out, the other man rescued the child.

Origin of the blaze has not been determined. It broke out before the store was opened for business today.

Norway To Share In Discussion Of Atlantic Alliance

Announcement Of Stand Taken By Norway Is Announced This Morning

DENMARK ALSO TO DISCUSS PACT

(BULLETIN)

OSLO, March 4.—(INS)—Norway firmly rejected Russia's offer of a non-aggression pact today and then formally announced its decision to participate in North Atlantic Pact negotiations at the invitation of the United States.

The Norwegian foreign office reminded Moscow that both countries already are pledged as United Nations members to refrain from attacking each other.

(In Copenhagen, the Danish parliament's foreign affairs committee voted to send Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen to Washington to discuss Denmark's possible participation in the Atlantic pact.)

Shortly after publication of its note to Russia, Norway announced that the Norwegian parliament agreed at a secret meeting yesterday "that Norway should seek cooperation with western democracies in defense of political and security spheres."

Will Share Discussions
Halvard Lange, Norwegian foreign minister, read the note rejecting the Russian non-aggression pact to the parliament, and then said:

"We have also informed the United States that Norway will now gladly accept the invitation to preparatory discussions of the Atlantic pact."

Lange continued:

"Norway, in its actions, has expressed faith in the United Nations. Her decision to enter into regional cooperation is not in conflict with the United Nations charter."

Premier Einar Garhardson said: "We went through long deliberations and much soul-searching before reaching our firmly established attitude regarding these security problems."

U. S. Volunteers Help
"It is of decisive significance that the United States volunteered positive help and has shouldered burdens in order that this part of the world may get on its feet again."

Garhardson said that Norway's experience in the second world war led her to abandon traditional neutrality.

The expected communist attitude regarding the decision was expressed in parliament by communist member Strand Johansen, who said:

"We communists will do all in our power to prevent Norway from (Continued on Page Two)

Arthur Mometer

When the winter winds whistle round your door, and the icicles form in a cluster, and you huddle close to the open fire, and all outdoors is a buster. It's pleasant to sit and to dream a bit of the days of the old canoe when you floated along with time on your hands, overhead a blanket of blue. As you poke the fire you think of the nights when the moon was a glistening ball, and up in the trees if you listen hard you can hear the katydid call. So you bank the fire and go to bed while the winter winds whistle away, but you can't help dreaming of different nights, it's 43 today.

HADASSAH CHAPTER
PLANS FOR DONORThe Donor committee of the New Castle chapter of Hadassah held a rally at the home of Mrs.
L. F. Kohn, Park avenue, Wednesday evening, March 2, to further the plans for the annual donor dinner at which will be celebrated the founding of the Jewish state of Israel.This greatly anticipated event, the twenty-sixth in New Castle, will take place at The Castleton hotel on Sunday evening March 27. The speaker for the evening will be Rev. John Stanley Grauel of New York city, an outstanding member of the American Christian committee, as well as an eloquent speaker.Those working as co-chairmen are Mrs. Archie Slovinsky, Mrs.
Leonard Smith, Mrs. Paul Winick and Mrs. Ruth Berger, president.
Rubenstein acting a captain.This dinner meeting is a culmination of the donor drive for the Hadassah Medical organization (H.
M. O.) which this year has been doubly challenged. A two-prong program has been added to Hadassah's many other obligations. This year Hadassah must build the first hospital in the Negev (the southland of Israel) for its new frontier colonies. Hadassah must also erect the first graduate medical school in Jerusalem in connection with the Hebrew university for the training of doctors.The committee has planned an outstanding program.COUPLE FETED
ON ANNIVERSARYMr. and Mrs. Stanley May, West
Washington street extension, were the honored guests at an evening surprise party in their home. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Robert Drumm and Ronald A. May and celebrated the thirty-first wedding anniversary of the couple.The evening was spent informally and several electric guitar numbers were presented by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Butch.A delicious buffet lunch was served to 52 guests from a beautifully appointed table which was centered with the traditional wedding cake.Mr. and Mrs. May were the recipients of a large number of gifts.
Mr. and Mrs. May, the former Mae Hines, were united in marriage in Jefferson, O., February 21, 1918, a few years later they moved to this vicinity and have lived in their present home in Union township since that time.They are the parents of four children, two of whom are living, Mrs.
Robert Drumm, of New Wilmington and Ronald A. May, at home.

Dr. Spencer Resigns As Bucknell Head

Will Take Over Executive Director's Post In The Kress Foundation

LEWISBURG, Pa., March 4.—(INS)—Dr. Herbert L. Spencer will resign tomorrow as president of Bucknell university in Lewisburg to take over the executive director's post in the Samuel H. Kress Foundation at New York.

His resignation will be tendered to trustees at a meeting of the board in Philadelphia.

Spencer succeeded Dr. Arnaud C. Marts as head of Bucknell in June, 1945, after resigning the presidency of the Pennsylvania College for Women at Pittsburgh.

The Kress Foundation was incorporated in 1929 to promote the welfare of mankind.

RED MISSION IN FRANKFURT BOWS

and telephone service to the mission's Frankfurt headquarters shut off, and placed a 24-hour blockade around the building. U. S. MP's were told to arrest anyone entering or leaving.

The Soviet military governor—Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, who has enforced the encirclement of two and one-half million West Berliners—promptly denounced the "reverse blockade" as an atrocity.

Yesterday, the U. S. state department voiced its full backing of Clay's firm stand, and rejected all Soviet protests on the ousting of the mission.

Leave Without Ceremony

The four officers and four enlisted men comprising the repatriation group left without ceremony in the cold wintry dawn. As a parting gesture, they spurned American offers of gasoline and food. There was a brief conference between Col. Sterling Wood, U. S. provost marshal, and the Red army unit commander, Col. Vassily Aragonov.

The Russian decision to accede to Clay's order and to expel the American units was made public last night by Sokolovsky.

The Soviet military governor referred to "the shocking behavior of American authorities against the Soviet... commission..." Adding that because of this, American search groups in the Soviet zone would have to leave.

LENSMEN PICK HER---NO WONDER!

PHILADELPHIA news photographers' choice for Miss Press Photography of 1949 is Cindy Compton, who certainly merits that old saying of "as pretty as a picture."

Study Admission Under Influence Of 'Truth Serum'

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—(INS)—A 25-year-old Kentuckian's "truth serum" admission that he fatally beat and strangled multi-millionaire James A. Mahoney was studied today by New Orleans authorities.

Police Supt. Joseph Scheuering said that Louis Eugene Hoover, a native of Louisville, related while under the influence of sodium pentothal how he killed the Bristol, Va., landowner in Mahoney's Vieux Carre hotel room February 21.

Scheuering stressed, however, that the ex-soldier's statements "are not a confession" because he was drugged at the time he made them.

Burial Escort Of Legion Has Dinner

Members Of Gaston Post Burial Detail And Wives Have Enjoyable Event

Members of the burial escort of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, had a dinner meeting in a local restaurant, Thursday evening, with their wives as guests.

Following dinner, Al Walker, commander of the detail called on various members for remarks. It was stated by Commander Walker that the detail has officiated at fifty funerals during the past year, conducting military rites at the graveside of their comrades, most of whom were men returned from overseas where they met their deaths in the fighting.

The balance of the evening was spent with entertainment, P. Dale Johnson, showing a number of interesting talking pictures.

being driven into this dangerous Atlantic union."

A final decision on entering the alliance, Norway told Russia, will be made by the Norwegian parliament after the contemplated pact is "available in final form."

Boldly Defies Russia

Washington, March 4.—(INS)—Norway boldly defied Russia today by rejecting an offered non-aggression pact and joining the north Atlantic alliance negotiations in Washington.

Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstierne was instructed by his government to enter the alliance talks and will meet with the representatives of seven other nations at 11 a. m. (EST).

In firmly turning down Moscow's offer of a mutual alliance with Russia, Norway reminded the Soviet that the United Nations charter pledges the two nations to refrain from attacking one another. Russia also was informed that the Norwegians were entering the Atlantic pact talks.

The Soviet foreign office last month sent a note to the Oslo government offering the non-aggression pact and warning Norway to stay out of the north Atlantic alliance.

tained with two choral numbers. Their conductor, Lewis Bullock, stated that they were a typical American group and since the luncheon represented a typical American enterprise they considered it a privilege to help launch this Red Cross drive.

Chairman, S. Glenn McCracken presided at the meeting. A film about the Red Cross blood donor program was shown to the workers through the courtesy of Clay Aubel of the Pennsylvania Power company.

Mr. McCracken then introduced fund campaign chairman, Harry W. Helmick, who spoke to the women concerning the importance of their part in this campaign.

Chairman Speaks

Mr. Helmick introduced Mrs. Long who spoke to the workers concerning their supplies and reports. Mrs. Long asked Mrs. Louise F. McConnell, executive secretary, to give the workers some insight into the work which is being done by the local chapter.

Within the next few days one of these women will be calling at your home. Walking streets and ringing doorbells is not the easiest part of a campaign. Please remember, they are all volunteer workers. They are coming to you as neighbor to neighbor so that you too may help through Red Cross.

Johnson, who showed up unexpectedly at an American Legion dinner last night, said he was hesitant to comment on his appointment because "I have a senate confirmation coming up." He added that he was "very humble" and counted on support of the Legion, of which he is a past national commander.

Talks To Truman

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—President Truman conferred today with his new defense secretary, Louis A. Johnson, who declared afterward that "strength means peace."

Johnson told White House newsmen after his talk with Mr. Truman, in which outgoing Defense Secretary Forrestal also participated, that he will strive to keep America's armed forces strong.

He declared that he is taking over the cabinet post with this philosophy:

"Strength means peace. Without strength there can be no peace for America."

Forrestal nodded approval as Johnson spoke.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FATE POSSIBLE FOR KILLERS

night by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, in Albany.

These papers ask Michigan Governor G. Mennen Williams to deliver Fernandez and Mrs. Beck for trial for the January 4 murder of Mrs. Janet Fay, 60-year-old widow, at Valley Stream, L. I.

Death Chair Possibility

By approving the extradition, Gov. Williams would be sending the Hawaiian-born Lothario and his chunky sweetheart to face death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

The governor's alternative would be to hold the pair for trial in Michigan's Kent County and possible life imprisonment, for the murder of widowed Delphine Downing and her 20-month-old daughter, Rainelle, last weekend.

The New York and Michigan murders were in the same category—to obtain a widow's mite, the prisoners have admitted.

New York authorities were confident they would be permitted to take the 34-year-old and bald Romeo, and his 200-pound accomplice back to New York no later than Saturday.

Governor Williams has indicated action on the extradition will be taken "as soon as possible" after the papers arrive from New York.

ference when he was asked if he had any comment on the statement. He bluntly snapped: "I have no comment on statements made by traitors."

Wood said that he will name a subcommittee next week to begin consideration of legislation to protect the country from the Communist conspiracy.

The congressman declared that he favors even stronger steps against the party than were contained in the Mundt-Nixon Communist registration bill last session. He said:

"I believe that even more stringent provisions are necessary. I think that the statements of the two Communist party leaders will give a powerful impetus to such legislation."

day predicted that the filibuster will be broken and called on the Senate to go beyond the Hayden-Wherry proposal and provide for gagging debate by a simple majority.

A slight crack between the White House and the Senate leadership also developed when Majority Leader Lucas, Ill., said he was "sorry he could not agree with my President" on Mr. Truman's backing of cloture by "simple majority"—a majority of those actually voting.

Lucas supports a proposal to substitute the present two-thirds requirement by a "constitutional majority"—a majority of the 96 senators, or 49 members.

Sen. Russell (D. Ga.), leader of the southern filibuster, made a bitter response to Mr. Truman's statement. Russell said:

"It is appalling to me that the Senate is so far degraded that it cannot settle purely internal affairs, such as the question of rules, without the President imposing his views."

Severe Quakes Are Recorded In India

Fordham Seismograph Records Very Severe Earthquakes In N. E. India

NEW YORK, March 4.—(INS)—Two "very severe" earthquakes, probably centered in northeastern India, were recorded today on the seismograph at Fordham University.

Father Joseph Lynch, Fordham seismologist, said the first was recorded at 5:32 a. m. (EST) and the second four minutes later.

Father Lynch estimated the center of the earth shocks at about 6,800 miles from New York. He said he believed they were centered in northeastern India.

Boy Scout Patrol Contest Commences

Pine Tree Patrol Leading; To Raise Funds For Camp; Patrol Leaders Training Begins

At Mahoning Methodist church, in the recreation room, members of the Boy Scout Troop XV4 had their regular meeting on Thursday evening, with Scoutmaster Bill Weitz in charge.

The opening exercises were led by Don Weisbaker, senior patrol leader.

A display was presented by the Pine Tree patrol, with Carl McConnell, leader, which consisted of a model camp site, which won praise from the rest of the troop.

Richard Cangey, Paul Hammond, Jim DiVidio and Jack Shaw took part in a boxing exhibition.

The contest commenced among the four patrols of the troop, for a three-month period, with the Pine Tree patrol now in the lead. Observation tests were given by the scoutmaster, as to various sounds being heard.

After the troop meeting, the Green Bar Council met and it was planned to have a bake sale to raise funds to enable the troop to have camp this summer.

On Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the council room, the council members will have their first session of patrol leaders training, in charge of the scoutmaster. Next regular meeting of scouts Thursday evening, March 10, in the church.

Meeting opened with singing game, as a welcome to the new members.

A discussion regarding arrangements for a school bus, to take the girl scouts and parents to the girl scout and family banquet at the Cathedral March 10.

The Mermaid patrol, under Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, worked on second class activities. The new girls were made acquainted with tenderfoot requirements.

The Busy Beavers and Mountaineers patrols continued work on sewing badge, and are requested to bring their clothes for repair work to the next meeting, March 9.

Meeting closed with Friendship Circle, repeating Scout Promise, and singing of "Taps."

Firemen Auxiliary At Douglas Home

At the home of Mrs. Floyd Douglas of Enon Valley, members of the North Beaver Township Firemen's Auxiliary met on Wednesday evening, Mrs. Samuel Craig presided.

At the business session reports were received regarding the firemen's oyster supper given recently by the auxiliary. There was a demonstration of products to those assembled. Mrs. Forby Pitzer Jr. captured the door prize.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Carl Sander, Mrs. Thayer Martin of Mt. Jackson road will entertain the group on Wednesday, April 6.

Friendship Club With Mrs. L. Felix

Members of the Friendship club gathered on Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Leona Felix of South Wayne street.

Various games were played, with the prize being captured by Mrs. Florence Russo.

Special guests were Isabel Masters, Florence Russo, Theresa Ross, Josephine Russo and Antonette Compello.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Theresa Ross as aide.

Next meeting of the group will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Edith West, on Montgomery avenue, March 9, at 8 o'clock.

Opportunity Circle Discusses Missions

At Mahoningtown Presbyterian church the Opportunity Circle met on Thursday afternoon in the ladies parlor. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. W. C. Patterson.

The business session was in charge of Mrs. L. M. Wilkison. Plans were made for entertaining of The Shenango Presbyterial at this church on Thursday, April 21.

Mrs. Anna Culbertson led in the topic of the afternoon, "Puerto and Alaska Missions". Other members joined in the discussion.

Next regular meeting of the group, Friday afternoon, April 1, at 2 o'clock.

Family Gathers, Mark Anniversary

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mangino, 102 South Cedar street, there was a family gathering recently. The occasion was in honor of the 52nd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mangino.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mangino and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cwynar. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baffa and son.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION

The prime thing which has been constantly urged during the past few years by sound economists to cure inflation has been "production and more production." It has been said repeatedly that inflation is in large part a lack of balance between demand and production.

Now that production in some line in the United States is beginning to catch up with demand we are noting that prices are falling and are in some cases getting back to what we can regard as "normal."

In this respect it may be stated that production of wealth is one of the major purposes of free enterprise. It is recognized that man can only become prosperous by producing wealth. Without production there can be no general prosperity no matter how high prices rise because of scarcity. If we do not have the commodities to sell it makes little difference to us just what the price may be.

In fact, it is in the matter of producing wealth that man differs widely, in one respect, from the lower animals. A continent void of the ingenuity of man would produce no wealth, make no constructive changes, no matter how prolific was the supply of the buffalo, the monkey or the rhinoceros.

In Communist society the totalitarians are concerned primarily, not with the production of wealth, but with its distribution. They seek to put all on a common level by attempting to spread what is produced over all the people no matter how thin the layer may be. By devoting their major attention to distribution the little matter of production pines away.

Soviet Russia is a good example. The material things are supposedly equally distributed. The result is that after a quarter of a century of experimentation there is a woeful shortage of nearly all types of goods in Russia and the standard of living does not begin to approach even that of Western Europe. There is no incentive for production to grow because there is no profit incentive. Furthermore production is stifled by government red tape.

And in France with its socialist tendency the attention is directed toward the question of sharing the wealth rather than producing it. A French economist recently pointed out that the standard of living is four and a half times as great in the United States as in his own country and he attributes this to the fact that in France they are primarily interested in spreading production rather than in increasing it, no matter how thin the spread has to be.

GET IT ON RECORD

Maurice Thorez and Palmiro Togliatti, Communist leaders in France and Italy respectively, made it crystal clear in recent utterances that a Communist's first loyalty is to the Kremlin, and not to the country of which he is a subject. Both leaders tried to fog the issue slightly by qualifying the conditions under which they claim loyal Communists should forsake their own nation in favor of Russia. But the fog is easy to pierce. The monstrous intent remains.

The statements of Thorez and Togliatti constitute the clearest cut warning that the nations of the West have had of the extent to which Communism, in a democratic country, is synonymous with treason. Can any other interpretation be made of the Red leaders' statements?

What of the status of the Communist party of the United States? This outfit has been successful in boring from within in recent years. It has had members in important spots in the government. Leaders of the Red party here should be asked where their duties and loyalties would lie if Russia, for instance, should invade Mexico in retaliation for an act of aggression.

To continue this hypothetical case, if Russian troops, in pursuit of Mexican units, should cross into the United States, would Communists here rise and aid the Soviet? If U. S. Reds are of the same breed as their fellow Communists in France and Italy, their duty would be just that.

This is the question that should be put to the U. S. Reds. The questioning should be pressed home until there is a clear answer. The American people are entitled to it. It's important that it be put on the record.

Moscow now claims that the Russians invented the airplane, the electric light, most modern chemicals and the caterpillar tractor. They still fail to mention that they invented the modern purge when the Reds took over. Guess we can't accuse them of inventing lying because that is an ancient and dishonorable art which they have merely perfected.

European carnival queen and her maids appeared in the parade wearing neon necklaces. This sounds a little gaudy, girls, but if you insist on getting lit up this is the safest way to do it.

President Truman says there is no confusion in our North Atlantic Security Policy. It is very encouraging to learn of a place where there is no confusion.

According to some scientists, the atom bomb could destroy all mankind but not life in the sea. The time may come when you will wish that you were a poor fish.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Reports of Gen. Lucius D. Clay's forthcoming retirement as U. S. military governor of Germany and the trial of 20 fumbling espionage agents in Munich coincided today to underscore one truly great achievement of American occupational policy.

This is the astonishing degree of success attained by General Clay's comparative handful of forces in checking subversive action in what would seem to be the world's most fertile field for it. The gang rounded up and tried at Munich presumably is the most dangerous group of anti-American desperadoes encountered since the United States took over Western Germany with Great Britain and France in May, 1945.

They are supposed to have picked up information for relay to the Communist Czechoslovakian government in Prague, which in turn presumably passed it on to the Kremlin.

Achieved Little
But while the heavy terms of imprisonment meted out to the ringleaders prove that they conspired actively against the military security of the United States, they apparently achieved little indeed. The measure of their punishment would seem to denote more of an "A for effort" than any real degree of success.

Inasmuch as the Soviet never have been economical in their payments for subversion and espionage, the spies must have been the best obtainable and by sheer logic therefore much credit should be given to the U. S. Occupation Forces for stopping them in their tracks.

Like all defeated and occupied countries, Germany is filled with unreliable and unpredictable, the disillusioned, the jobless and the hungry.

There must be literally thousands of men and women who lost faith in the leader of Adolf Hitler and who have had no real way of learning the virtues of democracy. There could be no better candidates for the espionage trade, for under-cover activity breeds a certain sense of self-importance and even in many cases a striving for martyrdom.

Where They Come In
This is where the little-praised and often-maligned civilian employees of the U. S. Military Government come in. As much as the constabulary, the courts-martial and the military tribunals, these agents have been responsible for keeping the malcontents under surveillance and in line.

Not the least important aspect of their success is the fact that western rather than eastern Germany always has been the breeding-ground of political activities. Except for a few big cities like

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD WHO IS AFRAID OF DOGS

A great many young children suffer intensely from fear of dogs. This problem may be especially frequent and severe in towns, villages and scattered areas, where laws governing dogs do not exist or are not enforced.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am a steady reader of your column and respect your advice. Could you help me with a problem?"

"I have a brother five years old who is afraid of dogs. Next year he will start to school and will probably be running and screaming home most of the time as he lives in a rural community and there are a few dogs in the neighborhood. As far as we know he has had no reason to be afraid of dogs."

"We have a dog that my children play with but whenever my little brother comes he won't venture outside unless this dog is tied. My mother believes she 'marked' him before he was born because another of my brothers was bitten in the face by a little dog. I think this is a silly belief."

"Somewhat as follows I replied: The problem is not that boy but your mother. She doubtless has inspired the fear in him by her talk. You have presented two basic principles of helping this child overcome his fear of dogs. But you are probably the last person in the world whose advice your mother would take. You see, you are a young mother yourself and your mother has this young son, your brother. These facts render it psychologically hard for her to profit from any suggestions from you, however good they may be."

Then she is the more resistant to your suggestions since you laugh at her silly beliefs in the superstition of baby markings. You had better give up enlightening her on this and hope that someone else will enlighten her.

But if you are very calm and adroit, you might at some companionable time with your mother lead her to see why she should never discuss this child's fears in his presence.

BIBLE THOUGHT

The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and He helped me. Psalms, 116:6.

Dresden and Leipzig, the eastern areas of Germany are largely agrarian, interested in their own town councils and the like, but rather far removed from great national and international issues.

In the west, on the other hand, there are the Rhur and the mystical Rhineland, where feelings run deep and passions flare high. Also in the American zone is Bavaria, where the Nazi movement was born and where great villas still stand as memorials to the overlords who built them as testaments to themselves and their talent for squeezing money out of the people.

Most Of Overlords Gone
Most of the overlords are gone. But the country is still jam-packed with runners-up who never reached top rank in the Hitler hierarchy and who are ripe for adventures in some other field.

It is quite apparent that by mingling in the proper places and by judicious use of the investigating facilities at their command, General Clay's anti-espionage forces have accomplished a remarkable clean-up job.

This probably is largely traceable to General Clay's own determination to take absolutely nothing for granted.

He has earned criticism on this score, as in the case of Ilse Koch of Buchenwald fame and in the Malmédy massacres where he allowed reasonable doubt as to the guilt of some German officers and men accused of killing American prisoners in cold blood.

Yet the tactics seem to have paid dividends. The most sensational bit of evidence produced at Munich has been alleged information in the hands of one of the spies that an American atom bomb has gone astray somewhere—an indication in itself that the prisoners were thwarted from the start in their efforts to find out anything of real value.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There are two questions that you are bound to be asked sooner or later, at any rate sometime in your life.

They are "What would you do if you were a millionaire?" and "Would you like to be twenty-one again?"

I don't think that whoever asks you one of those two questions expects a sensible answer. But either makes a darn good subject for conversation until the card table is set up or the television show is ready to go on.

I have dealt with the millionaire question before, so we will dismiss that one.

But the "would-you-like-to-be-twenty-one-again?" thing came up just last night and it may come up in your own home tonight or tomorrow night.

So I'll ask you "WOULD you like to be twenty-one again?" If you are twenty-two or twenty-five or thirty or even forty you will most likely answer the question with a positive "NO."

Because you still have too much fun, too much activity, too much to be accomplished, ahead of you to give any thought to the past or to repetition.

But when you get to be fifty or sixty you are much more apt to keep an account book of your life, just as the storekeeper keeps an inventory of his stock.

The big difference, though, between the storekeeper's ledger and your life-ledger is this: The storekeeper can reorder his stock when it runs low. The salesman comes around with his order book and after a couple of weeks or so the stock is fresh and new and complete again.

But no salesman comes around to you and me and says: "I see you are pretty low on years. There aren't many left. I have a nice fresh assortment, full of pep, full of fun, full of success, full of happiness. May I send you a few dozen?"

No, no such salesman comes around to replenish your vanishing stock of years. (Continued on Page Seven)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

DOG LOVERS DILEMMA

Dear Sir: Here is the letter I told you I would write, do hope it will serve some purpose and perhaps help in some small way, man's friend, his dog. Anyhow it will take something off my chest that has bothered me very much.

If you could have seen what greeted me early Monday a. m. your heart would have melted just a little. Out from under my husband's automobile crawled a forlorn little pup, cold and hungry, and so scared to even look at human beings, evidently they hadn't been kind to her. In an instant something clicked and she knew she had found two friends, my husband and I. We are very fond of dogs and they sense it, I guess, because it's uncanny how all the strays find the path that leads to us, no matter what part of town we live in. We have found homes for several. Unable to give the puppy a home with us, under present conditions, we did the next best thing. My husband made her comfortable in the garage with food and water, and I worked like mad all day, by telephone and communication with neighbors, but she was unknown and unwanted, like hundreds of others turned loose on the mercy of the public. Please, Mr. Dog Owner, when humanity can't find it, how can your helpless dog, and especially one so young who hasn't lived long enough, cope with a cruel world. They wouldn't forsake you if you went to the White House or Poor House, they would love you just as much. We are told God created all living creatures, shouldn't we care for them? I think so.

Anyhow, our little lost and forgotten puppy ended up with the dog catcher, much against our better judgment. It tugs at our heart strings yet, but we had no alternative and somewhere there must be someone with a guilty conscience, one who turned a helpless little pup out in this cold weather, (of all times).

We had a dog for eleven years. She's gone now but left pleasant memories and she taught us much, things we couldn't learn from people. Her unselfishness and faithfulness gave so much and asked for so little. I beg of you who own these creatures, don't turn them loose. If you must get rid of them there are other means. This little wail will probably end up in dog-heaven and the Maker will take over from there.

I didn't mean to make this letter so long but couldn't tell it in fewer words.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Squeeze Out Religious Freedom

WASHINGTON, March 4.—While Hungary and Bulgaria have been holding well-advertised public trials of churchmen accused of various crimes, another Russian satellite has been proceeding with far greater subtlety and virtually no publicity to squeeze out the last vestiges of religious freedom. In Rumania the little band of communists running the country have taken over control of all religion.

Step by step the church has been made subservient to the all-powerful state. It is a revealing case study in communist techniques believed to have been directed from Moscow.

The reason there has been no publicity is that the iron curtain around Rumania seems today to be more impenetrable than the curtain surrounding Soviet Russia itself. Not a single American newspaperman is reporting from Bucharest today and Rumania has repeatedly denied applications for visas from American correspondents seeking admission to the country.

Basic Step
The basic step in reducing every church and every minister of whatever faith to complete subservience was the Rumanian cults law adopted last year. In clause after clause that law spells out the controls to be exercised by the government.

Article 13 of the law says: "Religious cults, in order to be allowed to organize and to function, must be recognized by decree of the praesidium of the grand national assembly issued upon proposal of the government, following recommendation by the minister of cults. Recognition may be withdrawn in the same manner for cause."

The government under the law has the power to withdraw in whole or in part church subsidies in the event of infringement of "laws concerning the democratic order of the Rumanian peoples republic." Violations of the cults law are decided by government agencies completely under the thumb of the central regime.

All religious functionaries from priests to archbishops must take an oath of loyalty to "preserve the secrecy of my office as ordered by the state." The budget of each church is subject to the supervision of the ministry of cults. The minister of cults, Stancu Stoian, was handicapped to carry out a ruthless assignment.

Way Prepared
Long before the cults law, the way had been prepared for reducing the Rumanian Orthodox church—the largest sect, with 13,000,000 adherents—to a kept status. With the death of the elderly patriarch of the Orthodox church a much younger man—Archbishop Justinian Marina—was named in his place. Marina had given every indication of willingness to play the game of the communist government.

The cults law paved the way for action against all denominations. It provided, for example, that each denomination should have a diocese for each 750,000 of its adherents. While this did not hit the Orthodox church it cut down the number of dioceses of other churches, particularly the two branches of the Catholic church—Uniate and Roman—from five dioceses to two.

One of the chief targets was the Uniate church, which 250 years ago split off from orthodoxy to ally with the Vatican. Of the something less than 3,000,000 Catholics in Rumania, about half are in the Uniate branch.

A small fraction of Uniate priests supposedly declared their desire to go back to the Orthodox fold. This was hailed as done in "obedience to the commands of the new life of our dear Rumanian peoples republic."

Property Turned Over
Most of the property of the Uniate church was turned over by government decree to a commission (Continued on Page Seven)

They Say
NEW YORK—Robert R. Young, chairman of the Federation of Railway Progress . . . "If Congressmen were not readily for sale. Blocs would not be organized to buy them."

WASHINGTON—Air Secretary Symington, commenting on the global journey of the B-50 "Lady Luck II" . . . "I believe has proved that the shadow of American air power can be cast over any area in the world."

WASHINGTON—Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R-California, co-sponsor of the Mundt-Nixon Communist control bill . . . "It's highly significant that Communists all over the world are showing their true colors in that their loyalty is to Russia and live to the country in which they live. This is all the more reason to relentlessly expose all the Communist traitors in our midst."

VATICAN CITY—Pope Pius XII, in a special Lenten message to American children . . . "We know how much your hearts and hands have done to bring children of other nations back to better health and happier homes after the long nightmare of war and ruin."

Hints On Etiquette
If you happen to call on a girl friend and she is entertaining a boy friend, make your call very short.

A bill tossed into the General Assembly hopper would set up a commission to study the problems of small business. If some other bills pass, there won't be any small business left to study.—Ft. Wayne, Ind., News-Sentinel.

At The Cashier's Window

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—One of life's little dramas is playing a doubleheader at Washington and Albany with President Truman and Governor Dewey in the stellar roles.

Both men are standing outside the cashier's window with an uncashed check of popular promises and big spending programs. What a moment of triumph awaits if the checks are valid! What frolics, what jolly times, what satisfying huzzahs for the cheer givers and free spenders!

Yes, but the bank's board of directors in each case has gone into serious conference over these checks. In Washington the 81st Congress has cast a cold eye on the endorsement, the "mandate," of the Truman draft. In Albany the N. Y. Assembly has called in handwriting experts to pass on Tom Dewey's $936 million budget, a record-breaker. What a long walk back to the street, what a grinding of executive teeth by the President and the Governor if the legislative censors say no to the two men at the window!

Roles Similar In Each City
The roles are similar in each capital city, but each actors puts something of himself into the part and each audience reacts a little differently.

Tom Dewey, by word and deed, has told us that he came out of the 1948 campaign a changed and enlightened statesman. He learned the hard way that there is no profit in trying to pass checks for giggling amounts. Honest Tom who used to get elected by denouncing the spending ways of his Democratic predecessors—Governors Lehman and Roosevelt—now makes them look like skinflints by comparison. To raise new funds for public spending, he's going to raise taxes on personal incomes, corporations, gasoline and pari-mutuel licenses. Thus, it is a new Dewey, a live-and-learn Dewey, who last week made a radio appeal to the voters over the heads of his own Republican majority.

Something Else Again
Mr. Truman's rendition of the man-at-the-window is something else again. The President, unlike Dewey, is not a new convert to the politics of bonanza. Mr. Truman is a promiser to the Roosevelt manner born. If he makes a train-trip appeal to the voters ("And I know how to do it, too," he has said cockily), he will be offering the same act which drew encores in November.

Even with the difference in presentation, the performances in Washington and Albany are being played from the same script. The action calls for conflict between an impatient executive and a reluctant parliament. This much is old stuff and a little superficial. It will be interesting, but nothing more, to watch the trial of strength between the President and Congress, between the Governor and the Assembly. But it will be much more important to discover if the country really has gone hog wild for the politics of bonanza.

Will Have To Do Better
We shall find this out, I think, if Mr. Truman takes the threatened train-trip. He will have to do even better, make a much stronger case than he did during the presidential campaign. From June until November Mr. Truman successfully calmed the country to choose between his promises and those of Dewey. But this time the President's opponents will be Democrats, most of them elected at the same time he was and many of them pulling larger majorities. By no means all of the Democrats in Congress got elected on the full Tru Deal platform. Most Southerners were mum on civil rights. Most of the farm belt candidates gave no pledge to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. Practically nobody said anything about putting the government into the steel-making business. There is no way on earth in which Mr. Truman can sensibly indict the Democratic party for letting him or the country down.

May Be On End Of Limb
And in the matter of his welfare program—housing, health, education, social security—Mr. Truman may find himself driven to the end of a limb already occupied by Henry Wallace. On welfare matters there is practically no disagreement in principle among Democrats. Almost to a man they agree that these things need attention. But how much attention? How much subsidizing? We remain the best-housed, healthiest, most educated, most socially secure nation on earth, but Mr. Truman will not be able to dwell upon such happy thoughts. He will have to make his case a strong one, have to point out the hole in the doughnut. This often a very absurd gesture and best left to full-time demagogues. We are spending almost half our public monies to support the cold war. This might be a very good reason to curtail welfare expenditures. But Mr. Truman cannot be expected to admit as much on his proposed whistle-stop tour. There is a real danger that, in making an all-out appeal, he may ignore as many facts and jump to as many shaky conclusions as poor Waalee.

Even so, would the country react favorably to such an appeal? Has the politics of bonanza got such a grip on the nation that nothing else counts? Both Mr. Truman and Governor Dewey seem to think so. Therein lies the suspense of the little drama in which both are starring. Those checks being offered at the cashier's windows—are they valid or will they bounce? ## State Police Say:

A driver may brush aside a traffic law now and then, but he'd be less likely to if he knew the good reasons behind the laws. Traffic regulations are the result of special conditions and should be regarded as regulatory rather than prohibitive. If certain acts committed by a large number of motorists are dangerous to the welfare of the general public then regulations are given the force of law so that the public may be protected.

QUATRAINS OLD SAYING

"Just do your best! my dad would say.
"Then if you fail to score,
Remember when you come away
Angels could do no more."

TOASTMASTERS

Toastmasters are a curious lot;
They'll praise you to the skies,
Then slay you with a parting shot
Before to speak you rise.

SNOW

When first it falls, so white and clean,
The snow is lovely stuff.
Though charmed by many a winter scene,
By March I've had enough.

MIGRATORS

Just like the feathered flocks that flee
When winter's drawing nigh,
Migrating where it's warm to be,
The rich birds southward fly.

Leathers Attends Gas Dealers Meet

Semi-Annual Meeting Held In Harrisburg Early This Week

Carl L. Leathers, of North Jefferson street, secretary of the Pennsylvania Gasoline Dealers association, has just returned from Harrisburg, where he attended the semi-annual meeting of the association, held in the William Penn hotel there.

Virtually every county in the state is now represented by an association, Mr. Leathers stated, and the problems of the dealers were presented to members of the State legislature.

The matter of a suitable fair price bill was presented to members of the house, whereby retail dealers would receive an equalization of the rebate to gas dealers, due to shrinkage, evaporation, and wastage, in handling this commodity, all of which is now born by the retailers.

The association also presented a vigorous protest on the recent gasoline tax increase, petitions on which are still coming in to the legislature, Mr. Leathers stated.

WASHINGTON CALLING

of government officials. The ministry of agriculture is taking over the agricultural lands of the church, another ministry the petroleum resources and so on.

Under the cults law all effective ties of any church with any organization outside Rumania had been severed and the entire personnel of all churches "must be Rumanian nationals". This has just about put an end to the Protestant missions that formerly existed. A decree on Nov. 10 provided that any church official could be deprived of his state salary for "anti-democratic attitudes".

That is the formula. It is being applied throughout eastern Europe not alone in religion but in every department of life to stamp out any slightest possibility of independence or protest. Collectivization of the farms is reducing the peasant to dependence for his livelihood on the state. All this is happening with most Americans hardly aware of how completely the whole development of western freedom and western thought is being reversed.

JOBS UPON A TIME

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN (Ben) Grauer, whose pleasant voice you hear announcing names of musical composers, compositions and performers in symphony orchestra concerts, and every type of special event, was born in New York City in 1908, and is unmarried. Grauer played in motion pictures and on the stage from 1915 to 1925, and since 1930 has been an announcer. Ben received the national H. P. Davis announcer award in 1944, and is vice president of the American Federation of Radio Artists. He lives in New York.

GERALDINE FITZGERALD is, of course, Irish. She was born in Dublin, and is a graduate of the Gate Players, Dublin. Geraldine appeared in a number of British screen productions and has been in American films since 1939, making Wuthering Heights, Dark Victory, etc., the latter picture being made after Geraldine had been coaxed back to America from Ireland, to which she had returned. Her husband is Stuart Scheffel, and they have a seven-year-old son.

tee, of his Memoirs. Klein wants an investigation by the House Rules Committee. Klein's maneuver undoubtedly is intended to forestall the publication. The New Dealers fear that the Stripling revelations will prove embarrassing to its past and present administration.

An amazing feature of Representative Klein's protest is his demand that inquiry be made to find if any "confidential material" in the Un-American Committee's files will be used in the Stripling publication.

In view of the disappearance of many vital papers from the Roosevelt executive files and the removal of others to the Hyde Park Memorial, it seems rather ridiculous to complain about the possible use of government documents by one who has put in a decade ferreting out the Reds and fellow-travelers. No files exposing subversive activities and the perpetrators thereof can legitimately be regarded as secret and confidential. As a general proposition, they should be given the widest possible publicity; no innocent person will be harmed by such publicity, and the guilty should be exposed.

Sat Placidly By

The New Deal dominated Congress sat placidly by when Henry Morgenthau, former Secretary of the Treasury, made use of the official files to write a big and boring book of official reminiscences. There was no protest against any of the long list of literary New Dealers, including Jim Farley, Madame Perkins, Cordell Hull, Ickes, Stimson, Harry Hopkins and other budding authors, who capitalized on their administrative connections for political and financial gain. No criticism was offered when Elliott Roosevelt, in one of the worst possible demonstrations of bad taste, put in book form his observations in secret international conferences. Neither has there been any high moral indignation against Mrs. Roosevelt's exploitation financially as wife of the President of the United States through soap operas, magazine articles, lectures and syndicated newspaper comment. Why should there be any legal or moral distinction between investigator Stripling and these assorted literati whose output has been solely to glorify the late President and to bask in his reflected glory?

Few things could be more wholesome from the standpoint of the public interest than the unexpurgated reports of an investigator who has spent so many years hunting down subversives and their pernicious activities. The true story, of course, may not be flattering to many persons who occupy or have occupied high places in the government. But that is all the more reason why it should be frankly, fearlessly told. Efforts to obstruct or prevent the telling are likely to be interpreted as inspired by fear.

Cuban Sugar Export Ordered Reduced

Cabinet Has Ordered A Reduction Of 200,000 Tons In Sugar Export

HAVANA, March 4. — (INS)—The Cuban cabinet has ordered a 200,000-ton reduction in the Cuban export sugar crop.

At the same time, the Sugar Stabilization Institute's molasses sale committee announced it has recinded a contract with the Philadelphia, for the sale of 80 million gallons of molasses.

It is believed that the Cuban action was based on the prevailing low prices for molasses.

Navy Flyer Killed In War Maneuvers

Plane Crashed And Burned When He Attempted Simulated Depth Bomb Attack

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET IN THE CARIBBEAN, March 4. — (INS)—The Navy announced today that Ensign Neagle Wilson Miles, 23, of Baytown, Tex., was killed Thursday when his plane crashed and burned during the Caribbean war maneuvers.

Miles' nearest kin is his father, Chilton Earl Miles Sr., 401 North Jones street, Baytown.

The pilot was attached to the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and crashed in the sea when he was attempting a simulated depth bomb attack during the Atlantic fleet's amphibious assault on the Island of Vieques.

Official observation of the maneuver thus ended with one real and one simulated tragedy for the attacking forces.

LOOKING AT LIFE

There is no reorder, no credit, no new models.

So you can't reorder, you can only imagine yourself going back to the time when the stock of years was plentiful and stretch out what is left as far as possible.

I had to answer the question last night. A very nice lady with a still plentiful stock of years asked me, "would you like to be twenty again, particularly if you could avoid all the mistakes you made the first time?"

My answer was a loud "No".

"Why?" she asked me, "haven't you enjoyed your life?"

"I certainly have," I said, "and I am too busy enjoying what is left to give any thought to what has gone."

"To me the years that have passed have been a grand show, every one of them. Some of them have been drama, some comedy. But I would not want to see a show twice."

"My best years have been like beautiful tunes in a musical show. I remember them, I hum them, I carry their memory with me through the rest of my life."

"But to live it all over again—I think it would be monotonous."

Greater New Castle Association To Meet

Notices are in the mail to members of the Greater New Castle Association, reminding them of the directors meeting Thursday evening, March 10, in The Castleton hotel.

Directors will be asked to fix a date to elect one half of the board of directors to replace those who retire March 31. The election will be conducted by mail with a secret ballot.

The board will organize again early in April, at which time officers will be elected for the coming year.

229th Officers Get Instruction

Consolidated School On Field Artillery Conducted At Cunningham Armory

Some 25 officers of the 229th Field Artillery, commanded by Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, met at Cunningham Armory for consolidated classes of instruction in field artillery work.

Officers from the three firing batteries, located at DuBois, Punxsutawney, and Grove City, met with the local staff for further instruction in artillery problems.

The morning session included methods and technique of good military instruction, conducted by Capt. Joseph B. Donegan; field artillery survey, by Lt. Dallas C. Hartford; and a class in various problems of field artillery gunnery, by Capt. Alfred F. Barnes. After the noon meal, the group re-assembled for instruction in the use of the graphical firing table, conducted by Lt. Roy W. Coffman. This is a special type of slide rule used for computing most all kinds of ballistic and artillery firing data.

Col. Mitchell closed the session by discussing the efficient use of the battery administrative assistants, the setting up and use of battery job sheets, and progress charts, details for getting ready for Federal inspection, setting up of summary courts and appointing of summary court officers for each battery and a discussion of the possibilities of each battery setting up its own outside carbine range.

The next school will be held at Punxsutawney the latter part of March.

Indict 753 Men As Racketeers

PHILADELPHIA, March 4. — (INS) — Seventy-three men were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in Philadelphia in the wake of an FBI investigation of alleged racketeering in War Administration surplus goods.

U. S. Attorney Leon H. Fox said the indictments "only scratch the surface of a barrel of indictments against dealers, businessmen and veterans that are to come."

Fox said the 73 indicted were part of a black market ring involved in the fraudulent purchase of surplus trucks and their resale at "extremely high prices."

He identified Manuel Steinberg of Camden, N. J., as the "kingpin of the entire racket."

Steinberg is a truck and automobile dealer. Fox charged that Steinberg acquired 270 surplus vehicles for $230,725 and resold them at "enormous profits."

Report 239 Have Had Blood Typed

Blood Donor Committee Reports That Many Are Now Responding

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, chairman of the Blood Donor Committee of the Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter of the Red Cross, in cooperation with the Lawrence County Medical Society, stated today that Lawrence County citizens are increasingly recognizing the importance of blood transfusions and that in many instances the giving of blood has been the medium of saving several lives. During the past month, 239 local people have had their blood typed voluntarily and are prepared to furnish blood when called upon.

Miss Kathleen Angelillo, blood program technician, reports that the blood of all humans is divided into four general classifications. These are: O, A, B, and AB, and also classified as to the RH factor, either positive or negative. It is interesting, she said, how closely the results of typing blood of Lawrence County citizens compare with national averages:

Blood Type	Lawrence	National
O	42%	46%
A	42%	40%
B	10%	10%
AB	6%	4%

Hours For Typing
In order to accommodate the citizens of Lawrence County who desire to have their blood typed free of charge, the Lawrence County Chapter has set up the following schedule, when donors may stop at the Chapter House at 39 North Beaver street: Mondays—10 to 12 noon; Thursdays—1:30 to 4:30 p.m.; Fridays—1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Arrangements have also been made where residents of the Ellwood City area can have their blood typed at the Red Cross office in the Ellwood City municipal building on Wednesdays from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Among the groups typed last month were members of the Elks Club at Ellwood City, Kiwanis Club at New Castle, and employees of the Associated Box Company. Plans are now under way for typing members of the following groups: Optimist Club, Wolves Auxiliary, and the Wurttemberg Volunteer Fire Department.

Film Available

Mrs. Louise McConnell, Executive Director of the Lawrence County Chapter reported that the Red Cross film, "A Life In Your Hands," is in constant circulation and is heavily booked for showing during the month of March. Organizations interested in seeing this interesting film on the blood program should call 5084 without delay and arrange for an open date.

Dr. Flannery again emphasized the importance of having one's blood typed, since it is extremely valuable in case the donor himself needs emergency transfusions, so that precious minutes will not have to be wasted in typing or finding suitable donors.

Lawrence County Farm, Home News

By Extension Representatives
Lewis C. Dayton, Agriculture
John H. Holbert, Agriculture
Patricia A. Kelley, Home Economics

SELECT A PROPER DIET FOR GOOD HEALTH

Because American homes and communities are not threatened by pellagra, rickets, or gross hunger, many people do not bother to find out whether they are eating the proper foods each day.

This does not mean people should eat too much, but that every adult and child eat foods which have vitamins and are nutritious.

The home economics extension representative lists the foods which are important to serve once a day. Everyone should get at least one serving of a citrus fruit and juices or tomatoes; green leafy foods that are not overcooked; milk meat, fish, cheese, eggs; whole or enriched cereals; and a sufficient amount of energy foods in the form of fats, starches, and sugars, to give full-steam energy without adding extra weight.

It is stylish and technically correct not to be fat. Eating at least one food a day from each of the food groups mentioned will help promote good health.

GOOD QUALITIES FOR NYLON CURTAINS—ALSO CARPETS

Nylon is being used in making not only clothing, but household textiles, such as curtains and carpeting. Ready-made curtains and curtain material by the yard are available in sheer nylon. Because nylon fiber is dirt-resistant, these curtains require fewer washings. They also need no stretching or pinning, tasks that are not always easy or liked by many homemakers. The laundering of nylon curtains is easy because they are lightweight. When washing curtains, let the panels hang smoothly until the water drips off, then place them on curtain rods. Press only the hems if necessary.

Nylon carpeting with a scroll pile is rich looking and pleasing in appearance because of its all-over design. Plain broadloom with all nylon pile is another luxurious and durable carpeting. Nylon is especially good in light-colored textiles, because it can be made whiter than wool without bleaching. Makers of nylon are now producing it in different textures and weaves, since many homemakers object to the luster of the fiber in many textiles.

Babson Discusses Wage Situation At Present Time

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated
BABSON PARK, Fla., March 4.—The cost-of-living is definitely declining. This especially applies to food supplies, but is also shown by the mark-down sales of clothing, underwear, shoes and other things. Cars of various makes can now be secured for immediate delivery; and it is estimated that before the year is over one may buy any car "off the floor" with the possible exception of a Chevrolet or Ford. The prices of new houses have begun to decline. If your family is not getting their things cheaper, it is because they are not shopping around as they should.

The difficulty in the wage situation is that many labor leaders feel that, in order to hold their jobs, they must get for their members a little more wage increase every year. Of course, they know that this cannot go on forever. They should know that they will hold their jobs better in the end by not asking for an increase in wages than by experiencing a bust.

Attitude of Big Companies
Certain industries are still in a seller's market—that is to say, they can dictate the price. This especially applies to the building industry, the steel industry, and a certain portion of the automobile industry. This means that if they grant an increased wage to labor, they can pass this along to us consumers by merely raising the prices. Therefore, if any of the labor unions in these industries strike for more wages, and the government backs labor up the companies will accept the recommendations. They, however, will plainly state that this will be added to the price of goods and passed along to us consumers. This is an entirely new attitude. It may cause labor to now take all they can while the going is good or it may bring them to their senses.

Of course, this policy is hard on industries which cannot pass along any increased wages to consumers. I have in mind the clothing industry, the shoe industry and the manufacturers of refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and radios who dare not add anything more to their prices. Hence, they must fight any further wage rises or depend upon new labor-saving machinery which is now being installed. Manufacturers ordered such machinery two or more years ago when they anticipated labor's demands, but it is just beginning to be delivered.

Employment Outlook
Statistics show that employment is gradually falling off. This, of course, is an important factor in connection with wages. When an idle man is standing behind an employed man waiting for his job, two things happen. First, the employed man works harder and does a better day's work; and secondly, he is not going to ask for any wage increase. People are spending less money due to the fact that they have been using up their war savings. This causes less demand for goods, which in turn, causes employers to lay off more help. Then the purchasing is still less. Hence, the vicious circle which has been spiraling upward for the past several years will now begin to spiral down just as rapidly.

One thing I wish to emphasize here is that wage conflicts are not conflicts between labor and management. Management is merely a go-between, that is, it is a negotiator between labor and consumers. Labor is not fighting management, but rather is fighting the public. Even when labor leaders criticize the dividends which are being declared by management, it should be remembered that these dividends do not go to management; they merely make out checks to send to life insurance companies, savings banks and small investors all over the country.

The panic of 1923 was due to overreaching by the railroad barons of that day; the panic of 1929 to the overextension of western farm loans; the panic of 1933 to the overexpansion of industrial trusts, and the panic of 1937 to the collapse of our banking system following the stock market break of 1929. The next panic will be due to the overreaching of labor and a collapse of the present union leadership.

MISSIONARY IS GUEST

Assembling Wednesday in the basement of the Presbyterian church, members and guests of the Women's Missionary society were entertained by Mrs. J. B. Cummings, a missionary from Pakistan, who is spending a furlough with relatives and friends in New Wilmington.

Mrs. Cummings described the customs of the Mohammedan people and told of their training in Gordon college where she and her husband are teachers. The Pakistan is the second newest country and became a separate country in August 1947. The students in the college are trained for Christian leaders and upon graduation become teachers in the mission schools. In native costume the speaker related many interesting experiences of the people in this land, citing the difference between Hindus and the Mohammedans. She was assisted in displaying the costumes by Mrs. J. H. Thorhauser.

Prior to the mission talk, Mrs. W. H. McCullough opened the program with a hymn by the group, followed with prayer by Mrs. H. W. Marshall Sr. and scripture reading by Mrs. McCullough.

At noon a delicious tureen dinner was served by Mrs. Merle James, Mrs. Lenora Stapf and Mrs. C. L. Repman, aided by Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. Lela Jackson and Mrs. H. E. King. Covers were arranged for 22. Mrs. Paul Brown and daughter and Mrs. Cummings of New Wilmington were out-of-town guests.

Plays At Being Red Cross Nurse

Little Lynn Moore, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moore of 416 Martin street, plays at being a Red Cross worker. As she makes believe that she is giving her dolly a transfusion, she reminds adults that now is the time to give and give generously to the Red Cross to promote their much needed work.

GIRL SCOUTS

Brownie Troop 54

Brownie troop 54 met at Clemenmore school on Wednesday at 4 o'clock. Marcie Eckles and Mary Lou Thomas of the Girl Scouts were present and taught the Brownies some new games and a new song to be used in group singing at the scout banquet. The meeting was closed by forming the Brownie tunnel.

The troop is led by Mrs. Ralph McCormick, assisted by Mrs. Jack Carroll.

To Examine Men For Aviation Here

Aviation Cadet Examining Officer Will Give Tests Here Later In Month

Arrangements have been completed to have an aviation cadet examining officer in New Castle on Saturday, March 19, it was announced today by Capt. Charles E. Weddle, commanding officer of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Army Air Force Recruiting main station.

The plans were completed to have the examining officer at the recruiting main station, Room 400 Frew building, for the purpose of interviewing interested applicants and conducting qualifying examinations. Previous to this time qualified applicants had to go to Pittsburgh for the interview and the qualifying examination.

In order to be eligible for the Aviation Cadet program, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 26½ years, have completed two years or more at an accredited college or university—or be able to pass an equivalent educational examination. High school graduates are eligible to take the examination. Also for the first time since the peacetime aviation cadet program took effect, married men are eligible on an equal basis with single men.

Complete information and application for an appointment with the aviation cadet examining officer may be obtained at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting main station, Room 400 Frew building, at the recruiting station, Room 202 Post Office building, or by telephoning 4745.

CATALOGUE PAPERS OF DR. G. ATHERTON

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 4.—(INS)—Buried for many years, the personal and business correspondence of Dr. George W. Atherton, president of the Pennsylvania State college from 1882 to 1906, is now the property of the Penn State library.

Mrs. Helen A. Govier, daughter of President Atherton, is assisting in cataloging the papers which reveal many of the trials and tribulations of the college during one of its most progressive eras.

Colder Process Is Main Secret Of Phipps Find

U. S. A. — "The Readers Digest," most widely read magazine in the world, had this to say about "COLD RUBBER."

"If luck is with you, next time you buy a tire for your car you'll get more than you expect for your money. This year something like three out of 100 purchasers will receive a 'surprise package' tire." Dean Phipps Stores states that "why trust to luck?" Cold Rubber tires can now be purchased at their stores. Cold Rubber gives a user mileage far beyond anything tire engineers thought possible. The evidence is overwhelming.

U. S. Whiskey '1484' Being Sold In Japan

TOKYO, March 4.—(INS)—Apparently Japanese know little about American history. Bogus whiskey has been selling at high prices in Japan despite a claim on its label that it has been made in America since eight years before Columbus discovered the land.

The labels read: "Made in the United States—Famous since 1484."

The army reported today that the whiskey, actually made in Japan, has been fetching a fancy price on the Japanese market.

Two Thieves Get $85,000 In Gems

Less Than Three Minutes Were Required To Rob Chicago Wholesaler's Car

CHICAGO, March 4.—(INS)—Two thieves burglarized a Chicago wholesaler's car of $85,000 in gems in less than three minutes Thursday as it was parked on the south side.

The gems, mostly diamonds, were in six cases. They belonged to Louis Levitansky, 35, who owns a jewelry business in the loop.

Former Residents Mark Anniversary

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McClelland, 1730 Washington street, Redlands, Calif., formerly of this city, a group of former New Castle folks gathered to help "Pearl and Dave," celebrate their birthday anniversary Saturday evening, February 26.

A birthday dinner was served by Mrs. McClelland, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Craig and Mrs. Mary Craig. A large birthday cake made by Mrs. Mary Craig, sister of Mr. McClelland, graced the table. Several floral bouquets and potted plants, gifts of relatives and friends, decorated the home, Mrs. Mary Craig is spending the winter in Redlands.

Cards of greeting, letters and gifts were received by the honored couple.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Kate Buchanan, formerly of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Craig, son Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClelland of Montone, Mrs. Mary Craig, Miss Esther Neiheiser of Akron, Ohio,

OBSERVE FIFTIETH WEDDING EVENT

Friends and neighbors gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Y. Hoover, N. Market street, New Wilmington, on February 23 to congratulate them on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Open house was held both afternoon and evening. They were the recipients of cards, gifts, money and flowers. Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Howard of the Pentecostal church of Sharon presented the honored couple with a large vase of flowers; the children gave a bouquet of a dozen yellow rose buds and an anniversary cake.

The Hoovers have three sons: J. T. Hoover and Calvin D. Hoover, both of New Wilmington; Dent B. Hoover of Greenville R. D. 5, and 14 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover (Laura G. Brown) were united in marriage February 23, 1899, near Lexington, Ky., their former home.

NOCERA-PERROTTA WEDDING IN ELLWOOD

The Blessed Virgin Mary church, Ellwood City, was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, February 26, which united in marriage Miss Nicoleene Nocera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nocera, 1008 S. Second street, Ellwood City, and Nicholas Perrotta, son of Mrs. Benny Perrotta of 1113 Cunningham avenue, this city. Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano officiated at the double ring ceremony and Rev. Fr. Joseph Purnatuzzi and Rev. Fr. Stanislaus Joswiak aided in the nuptial high mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin, fashioned off the shoulder and made entraine. Her fingertip veil of tulle, bordered with lace fell from a tiara of seed pearl hearts. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and white roses, centered with an orchid.

Miss Lucy Frisk was maid of honor, wore a gown of ice blue satin with a matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Pink taffeta gowns with matching headdresses were worn by the bridesmaids the Misses Joan Nocera, of Ellwood City, cousin of the bride and Mary Perrotta, this city, sister of the groom. They carried bouquets of yellow tea roses.

Mike Morini served the groom as the best man and the ushers were Peter DeCarbo, of Ellwood City and Anthony Chill, of this city.

Immediately following the ceremony approximately 80 relatives enjoyed a breakfast served at the Perrotta residence and a dinner served in a suburban tea room. A reception of over 200 guests was held in the Catholic Center, Lawrence avenue, Ellwood City.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and upon their return will reside in a newly furnished apartment on South Second street, Ellwood City.

Mrs. Perrotta is a graduate of Lincoln high school, Ellwood City and was formerly employed as a bookkeeper for the Logan Hardware store, Ellwood City.

Mr. Perrotta is a graduate of New Castle high school and is a veteran of World War II. He is now employed at the Johnson Bronze Co.

PHILATHEA SOCIETY MONTHLY MEETING

Members of the Philathea Missionary society of the Central Presbyterian church met Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors.

Mrs. Carl Wilson was the devotional period leader and had as her theme "Work of the Holy Spirit". Mrs. S. P. Tindal then presented the national topic and spoke of the work being done in Alaska and Puerto Rico. Miss Blanche Bright presented the foreign topic and gave a report on the work done by John Smith. "As I Saw Japan" Mrs. Ben Jenkins then gave a short talk on "One Sacrificial Meal a Week".

Mrs. Robert Meade Patterson explained in detail the work being done by the young people of the church and the forming of the new "Westminster Fellowship", the youth movement in the church.

Miss Blanche Bright was in charge of the business meeting, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Miss Alice Sterling, Mrs. Sara Fisher and Mrs. Claud Goehring.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. George W. Conway, 204 Englewood avenue, April 7.

P. G. Club

Members of the P. G. club met on a recent evening at the home of Mrs. Tony Mastern of Front avenue.

Five hundred was in play with prizes going to Mrs. Joseph Eve, Jr. and Miss Elizabeth Ungar. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Newman.

The next meeting will be March 9 with Mrs. Clair Chain, who will entertain at the Hotel New Penn.

WOLANSKI-KOZLOWSKI AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Miss Ruth Wolanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wolanski, of 1105 Pollock avenue, became the bride of Michael Kozlowski Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kozlowski, of 9 East Terrace avenue, at an open church wedding performed in SS. Philip and James church, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, February 26. Rev. Fr. V. Stancelewski officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a gown of white moire, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a full skirt which fell into a long train. The edge of the boat neckline and waist line were edged in seed pearls and rhinestones set in white fur. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with lace and fell from a crown made of the same material as the gown, set in fur with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a spray of white roses and sweet peas which fell in streamers from her first Communion prayer book.

Miss Wanda Macios, as maid of honor, wore a deep rose moire gown, with a matching headdress edged in white fur. She carried a muff of the same material as the gown which was adorned with a spray of white carnations and sweet peas. The muff was also edged in white fur.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Stella Henzel, Regina Owoc, Aileen Senow, all of this city, and Helen Opiot, of Rochester, Pa., were attired in outfits identical to the maid of honor's but in a dark green moire.

The gowns of the bride and her attendants were all fashioned by the bride and made by the bride's mother.

Ray Kozlowski, brother of the groom, served as best man and the ushers were Edward Wolanski, brother of the bride, Ben Boron, Tom Kiroi, Al Kosela and Ray Senow.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Polish Falcon hall and dinner was served at 6 o'clock for approximately 200 guests. The young couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside with the bride's parents at 1105 Pollock avenue.

Mrs. Kozlowski is a graduate of New Castle High school and is employed at the Johnson Bronze Co. as a stenographer.

Mr. Kozlowski is a veteran of several years service in the U. S. Marine Corps and is a student at the Terrace Avenue School for Craftsmen.

Sheriff Speaks To Principals Group

Lawrence County Principals' association met on Thursday evening in the Lawrence County Court House for their regular meeting with Arthur Gibson of the West

Pittsburgh schools, president of the group, in charge.

The meeting was preceded by a short business session at which time definite plans were made for the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic contest to take place at Westminster college on March 19.

Principal speaker for the evening was Sheriff Frank Coen, who spoke on "Crime As He Sees It," basing his timely talk on his experience as a game protector for 15 years and that as sheriff. He pointed out that the majority of criminal cases can be traced back to liquor and sex problems.

Dr. I. Gruen To Serve On Council

Dr. Iwan J. Gruen, rabbi of Temple Israel, has received word from New York City, that he has been elected to the National Council of Joint Defense Appeal.

The Joint Defense Appeal is the fund-raising arm of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the American Jewish committee.

Dr. Gruen will serve on the council as representative of the Anti-Defamation League.

Dr. C. W. Cochran To Start Timely Series

Dr. C. W. Cochran, pastor of Princeton Memorial and Mt. Hermon Presbyterian churches, has chosen "The Christian's Lenten Progress with Christ" as the general theme for a series of pre-Easter sermons, beginning Sunday, March 6, at both churches.

The Lenten schedule follows:
March 6—"Walk In The Spirit";
March 13—"Work At Soul Winning";

March 20—"Give With Generosity";
March 27—"Grow In Grace";
April 3—"Complete the Course";
April 10—"Receive the Redeemer";
April 17, Easter—"Rise With the Risen Lord".

BEAVER REPORTS DUE

HARRISBURG—Game Commission officials today reminded beaver trappers that they are required to present the skins of their kill for tagging by March 11, and should present them to the game protector in the district in which taken. None can legally be possessed or disposed of unless properly tagged. The season opened Feb. 15, and closed March 1.

Carnegie Says Gals Can Be Tweedy And Yet Be Feminine

NEW YORK. (INS)—Hattie Carnegie believes women want to wear tweeds—but still look as feminine as lace petticoats.

In her collection for spring, '49, she gives them that chance. Miss Carnegie showed New York and out-of-town fashion editors that the most tailored suit can be made feminine with the addition of one of three style touches: the flash-back silhouette; the jutting hipline, or the glamour tie.

The flash-back silhouette, the newest Carnegie gimmick, is best seen in the form of two diagonal hip pockets attached to the back of a jacket peplum. The peplum lies flat on the hips, but the pockets jut out, and have a turn back collar.

Printed Scarfs Added
Out of one of the rear hip pockets, Miss Carnegie dangles a silk printed scarf, which she matches up with another scarf in the neckline of the suit.

The jutting hip effect is carried out in some way on most of the suits. Directly beneath the waist, the jackets push out in a modified barrel-fashion, with the jacket hemline lying smoothly around the hips.

The glamour tie is Miss Carnegie's touch of color on dark or neutral dresses and suits. It's a colorful band, about two inches wide, which circles the neck, the ends crossing themselves in the center front of the bustline. At the point where they cross, there are two floppy, real-looking roses.

The designer drapes glamour ties around the necklines of tweed suits, coats, hand-knit dresses and taffeta cocktail frocks.

'Buttons And Bows' New Fashion Theme

NEW YORK. (INS)—Visiting fashion editors looked in on the sportswear scene for spring today at a show by Spectator Sports, Inc.

They found that "Buttons and Bows" have been turned into the theme song for tailored women.

Dresses were liberally spotted with buttons—buttons across shoulders, buttons rimming pockets, buttons running in a double line down the back of skirts. Many coats and suit jackets were double breasted, apparently so more buttons could be used for trim.

Big and tiny bows decorated the necklines of many dresses, and marked the pockets of others.

Two New Trends
Spectator Sports introduced two of their favorite trends for spring—the capelet silhouette and the handkerchief skirt.

The capelet silhouette is a modified version of last year's cape craze when designers put full-length, hip-length and elbow-length sleeves on anything that would stand the extra fullness. In this show, the capes were primarily detachable elbow-length types, worn on dark or neutral wools and lined with vivid-colored silks which matched blouses worn beneath suits, or dresses worn beneath coats.

The handkerchief skirt is made of a sheer fabric—in most cases, chiffon—and it gives the effect of many hankies stitched together at the waist and dangling to the floor.

TENT HALL

Clarence Campbell has been confined to his home for several days with bronchial trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird entertained at dinner Saturday evening. Miss Kate McFarland and her house guests, Mrs. Dempster, Mrs. Helen Cowder, and Mrs. Mame Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawthorne and sons, and Mrs. Loma Greer of near Mercer, visited Sunday evening in the Kretzer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chamette of Youngstown spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Campbell.

Mrs. Dempster of Massillon, O., is visiting in the home of her niece, Mrs. Kate McFarland.

Word has been received from Mary Munn, who is located in a hospital near Houston, Tex., that she is enjoying the climate and her work.

Kings Daughters meeting has been changed, and will meet March 17 at the home of Mrs. George Allen with Mrs. Clyde Moore as co-hostess.

Home Economic group did not meet this week with Mrs. Clarence Steese and will meet March 30 for an all-day meeting.

Mexican Oil Pact Seeks U. S. Dollars

Mexico Has Much Oil But Lacks Funds To Develop It; Seek U. S. Funds To Extract It MEXICO CITY. (INS)—Oil is one of the biggest question marks in Mexico today.

On dull days the Mexican press will drag the old question out of the morgue, dust it off and splash it on page one—"Will Mexico Get a Loan from the United States to Develop Oil?"

Hotels are filled daily with big oil men and United States government officials and promoters and would-be millionaires. They sit about in conferences, give one another parties and have mysterious interviews with top oilmen of Mexico.

Congressional committees come down from Washington, are extremely vague when asked questions and go home again after long inspection trips. They talk dreamily of the development of Mexican oil, but nothing concrete.

To Have and Have Not
The facts are simply that Mexico has oil but no money to develop it, while the United States has money and needs the oil.

Stumbling blocks to the apparently ideal arrangement are the terms on which Mexico gives up its oil or the United States gives up its money.

Under the United States system, oil digging is more or less a free enterprise. A man with money and tools and a piece of land can dig for oil and it belongs to him.

In Mexico, the government has a monopoly on oil. The lands are owned by the government. They are all bound up with politics, the national inferiority complex, the 1938 expropriation of British and American oil companies, and the ever-present hatred of the "Mexican politician for gringos."

Thus Mexico wants a direct loan from the United States government in cash, and it wants tools shipped down on credit to drill oil wells. The United States position, on the other hand, is understood to be encouragement of domestic oilmen to make investments in Mexico.

INSPECT SNOW REMOVER
City Directors Alexander, Gibson and Davis went to Pittsburgh yesterday where they inspected a snow remover, on which bids were received recently. It is not yet known what type remover will be bought, or when.

French Official Imprisoned For 'Indiscretions'

French Atomic Official Accused Of Divulging A National Defense Secret

PARIS, March 4—(INS)—French officials confirmed today that a young member of the atomic energy commission has been imprisoned in Paris, but declined to discuss details of the case.

Newspapers have identified the man as a "Mr. Pelas," who has been charged with "indiscretions" and is being held under the penal code at Cherche-Midi prison.

The newspaper France-Soir claimed that Pelas participated in recent Uranium-prospecting activities in the Saint Sylvestre region.

Bertand Goldschmidt, director of the commission's mineral research section, commented:

"I think if Pelas is accused of divulging a national defense secret, this secret had nothing to do with the atomic energy commission."

Goldschmidt said that Pelas did not have access to France's atomic pile.

Local Girl Capped In Philadelphia

Miss Myrna Lou Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pearce, of Eighth street, this city, was among a class of 102 girls to receive their caps and become official full-fledged students of the Temple University School of Nursing in Philadelphia. Following the capping exercises a tea and reception was held at Tioga House, the new main nurses residence.

Miss Pearce is a graduate of New Castle High school, class of June '48. She is a member of the swimmers and skaters club at Temple University and has recently become a member of the school's Glee club.

Funeral Services For Former Opera Singer

CLEVELAND, March 4—(INS)—Funeral services will be held Monday in Cleveland for Mrs. F. A. Brodhead, Jr., who was a mezzo-soprano with the Bostonian Opera company in the 1880's.

Mrs. Brodhead, born in Winthrop, Me., died yesterday at her Cleveland home. She was about 80.

EAST BROOK W.M.S. ELECTS OFFICERS

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the East Brook U. P. church were guests in the home of Mrs. Frank Shaw, East Brook, for an all day meeting on March 1. At noon a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her daughters, Mrs. Garla Kennedy of New Castle and Mrs. Davis Robinson of East Brook.

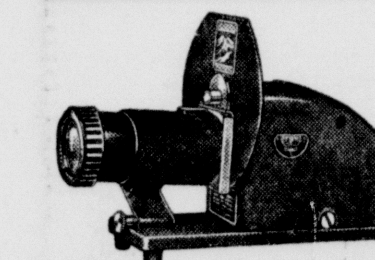

The birthdays of Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Edward Houston were remembered with a lovely cake centering the table. After dinner, Mrs. Shaw conducted devotions. Mrs. Arthur McCreary conducted the business session.

The following officers were named for the year: president, Mrs. Florence McCreary; vice president, Mrs. Frank Shaw; secretary, Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass; and treasurer, Mrs. Carl Richeal. Committee appointments took place following the election, with the remainder of the day spent in recreation and quilting.

Navyman's Body To Arrive Monday

Water Tender 2-C Bernard Mills Died In 1943 At Sicily After Being Injured

Water Tender 2-c Bernard Mills' body will arrive from Columbus, O., on the Pennsylvania railroad, Monday, at 10:50 a. m., when it will be removed to the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington at Chestnut, where friends may call that evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

B. T. Mills, a former resident of Kurtz street, this city, died August 7, 1943, at Palermo, Sicily, after suffering injuries while on duty on the Shubrick, a destroyer. He was in the engine room of the destroyer which was lying in the harbor at Palermo, when a German bomb was dropped down the ship's stack, scalding the young man who had no chance to escape. He lived four days after being injured. He enlisted in October, 1942, and served in the navy during World War II.

Born in Dunkirk, N. Y., he was a son of the late Milo M. and Rose Reis Mills.

Survivors include his former wife, Mrs. Kathleen Webster Mills Kalm, Corpus Christi, Texas; two sons, Bernard and David Mills, both of Corpus Christi, and one sister, Mrs. Dorothy Hill, New Castle. He also leaves six brothers, Paul Mills, New Haven, Conn.; Leonard Mills, Boston, Mass.; Milo, Thomas, Kenneth and John Mills, all of New Castle.

Woman's Board Plans Projects

At the meeting Thursday afternoon of the New Castle Hospital Woman's Board, several important projects were proposed.

These include the inauguration of a point system for all members. A committee is working out a schedule on the number of hours each member is to work a month. Points are received for the hours worked, and credits received accordingly. Further details of the system are to be announced.

Another project is the future division of the membership into three groups: active, inactive and honorary membership. Plans were also made for the betterment of the hospital gift shop. President Mrs. W. L. Strawbridge was in charge and other important matters discussed.

Thursday afternoon, April 7, is the next meeting.

West Side Church Crowded Beyond Capacity For Union Revival Effort Thursday

Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of Mahoning Methodist church, spoke before a more than capacity audience Thursday evening in Wesley Methodist church, West Side in the sixth of the New Castle sub-district sponsored revival meetings of the Methodist church. Rev. Everett Spring served as chairman of the meeting.

The Seventh Ward pastor used Moses as the basis for his timely topic in which he, also, asked his audience, "Who Is On The Lord's Side?" The speaker stated that a line of demarcation must be drawn and the Christian must keep on his own side and show the world that a difference does exist. Rev. Owen Shields offered the invocation. Special music included a vocal solo by Rev. Spring and a trumpet duet from members of the King's Chapel orchestra which played during the evening.

Brief remarks were made by Rev. J. A. Gaiser, president of the New Castle sub-district. He spoke concerning the plan of the church to erect a new building in the future.

The progressive revival series moves this evening to Christ Methodist church on South Mill street when Rev. Harry L. Johnson, pastor of the Edenburg Methodist church will speak. Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti will preside, with Earl Sulmonetti playing on the violin. Mrs. Sulmonetti will be at the piano. An all nations youth chorus will present special numbers.

Bar Association
To Have Seminar

Annual Dinner and Seminar Will Take Place At Field Club Saturday

OTHER NEWS OF
COURT HOUSE HILL

Members of the Lawrence County Bar association, together with a few privileged guests, will gather at the New Castle Field club on Saturday afternoon for the annual seminar and dinner, which is an event looked forward to with keen anticipation, particularly those who like to eat good food.

The seminar will take place at 3 o'clock, when Paul G. Rodewald, Esq., of Pittsburgh, eminent Allegheny county attorney, will discuss Federal Taxation.

The seafood bar will be open at 5 o'clock for those who like oysters on the half-shell, and there will be a period of relaxation and conversation, followed by the dinner at 6:30 o'clock, when turkey and all the trimmings will be carved and served by members of the committee, as per custom.

The program at the dinner will be furnished by legal lights of the local bar, with Attorney William A. Caldwell giving a dissertation on the life of Washington, a subject with which he has become most familiar, due to constant research. Other members of the bar will also be on the program, most likely in a lighter vein.

Attorney Charles Dugogenski is general chairman of the arrangements for the day.

President's Program
Is Bugged Down
In 81st Congress

Ninety-Four Per Cent Of President's Program Still Awaits Enactment Into Law

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The 81st congress entered its third month Thursday with 94 per cent of President Truman's campaign program still awaiting enactment. Deadlines began to loom larger with the senate bogged down by a filibuster and house committees struggling to break logjams on major legislation.

The most important deadlines are those affecting rent controls and the European recovery program, the first expires the end of the month, while funds for ERP are due to run out about the same time.

Other March 31 deadlines include extension of veterans priorities on low-cost housing and the mortgage loan provision of the national housing act (title VI).

Labor Pledge Unfulfilled

One deadline already has come and gone with a pledge unfulfilled. Last Nov. 15, Secretary of Labor Tobin predicted that congress would repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law in 30 days. New labor legislation is still locked in senate committee, while the house labor committee still has to hold hearings.

Other major parts of the president's program on which action has not been completed include: repeal of the Republican-enacted 1948 tariff law and extension of the old reciprocal trade program; higher minimum wages; housing; social security expansion; increased taxes; stand-by price controls; and other anti-inflation legislation; compulsory health insurance; civil rights, and federal aid for education.

Only two points in the president's 30-point legislative program—about six per cent—have been enacted into law. These provide for continuation of the administration's authority to arrange voluntary allocation agreements on scarce materials and to control exports. They would have expired Feb. 28 unless extended.

Local 'Hay Lift'
Plans Completed

Twelve County Sportsmen Will Leave Sunday Morning By Air For Clearfield County

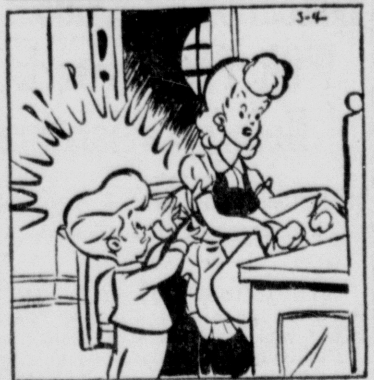

Response to the announcement that local sportsmen would participate in the "hay lift" to save wild life was so great that many planes could have been used, Joseph Garasz, local pilot, stated today. Twelve local sportsmen will take off from the Penn Aero Service flying school hangar at the New Castle airport on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock to fly to Clearfield county.

Pilots taking the sportsmen to the Central Airlines emergency field as Black Moshannon in Clearfield county include: Joseph Garasz, Robert Bretz and Jess Long. Many well known state sportsmen, including Harris Breth and game commission officials, will be present. An outdoor dinner will be served to the visiting sportsmen. A C-47 U. S. plane from Pittsburgh will be sent by the government to aid in the "mission".

THE FAMILY
SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Dearly Beloved Junk

"You're not going to throw that away, are you?" So says Johnny as Mother is cleaning up his room. And the "that" may be anything from a piece of nondescript rock to rumbled-up pictures clipped from old magazines. Such "junk" is especially dear to the hearts of the boys in the family. Any threat to it will be met with resistance.

Though it goes against your housewifely instincts, it is better to let the youngsters keep their treasures. What seems to be junk to you may be full of usefulness to the child. And even if it is not useful, the feeling he has about it is important enough to warrant keeping hands off.

If it is too much to expect of you to let your boys keep their room in any condition they wish, provide chests, deep closets, or other places in which their "stuff" can be kept. Even if it is piled in, it's still out of sight. If you can remember that it is natural for youngsters to hoard junk that they get great satisfaction out of it, you'll be able to live through the years when it means so much to them.

State Civil Service
Exams Are Planned

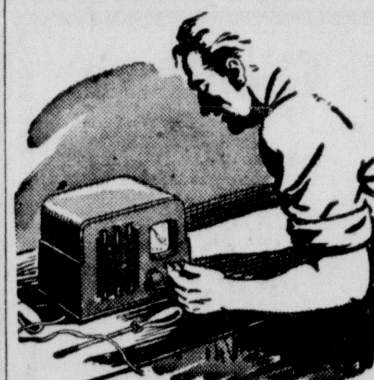

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Examinations for about 40 top-level jobs in the Pennsylvania State Employment Service will be announced today by the State Civil Service Commission.

Written examinations for the positions will be held at nine cities on April 9. Deadline for the submission of applications is March 4. Entrance salaries are from $3,516 to $6,900 a year.

Allentown, DuBois, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport will be examination centers.

Eleven former presidents of the United States also served as Senators. These were Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, Jackson, Johnson, both the Harrisons, Tyler, Pierce, Buchanan, and Harding.

Sliced frankfurters may be combined with baked beans and some crisp vegetables such as celery or carrot or cucumber for a salad. Use French dressing on it and serve on greens.

Poultry Industry
Shows Expansion

Outlook Is For Larger Farm Flocks and Raising Of More Broiler Chickens In 1949

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Further expansions in Pennsylvania's poultry industry are reported by the State Department of Agriculture following federal-state surveys made as of February 1.

The outlook is for larger farm flocks and the raising of more broiler chickens in 1949.

Although the number of layers in Pennsylvania farm flocks this January was 1.5 per cent less than for the same month in 1948, production of 282 million eggs set an all-time January record, the survey revealed. The total was eight per cent above January 1948 and four per cent, or 10 million eggs, above last December. This January's flock total was 19,832,000 birds.

Unusually mild weather, continuing since early November, was favorable to the rate of lay and at 14.23 eggs per layer equalled the previous January high attained in 1947.

Hatcherymen report that interest in chicks both for meat and flock replacement appears strong. On February 1 crop correspondents indicated they intend to purchase 26 per cent more straight run chicks this year than last, 12 per cent more pullet chicks and over 38 per cent more cockerel chicks.

Mild Winter Aids
In Outdoor Work

Pennsylvania Farmers Have Made Unusual Progress With Outdoor Tasks Past Month

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Favorable weather during early weeks of 1949 has enabled Pennsylvania farmers to make unusual progress with their outdoor work, the State Department of Agriculture said following a general farm survey the first of February.

January was the third straight month with unusually mild winter weather. Temperatures averaged seven degrees above normal. Soils remained unfrozen most of the month, permitting rains to seep in and increase water reserves.

Snow cover was absent except for a few days but mild temperatures minimized injury to winter grains, meadows and pastures. Temperatures climbed into the sixties at least once each week.

Fields of winter wheat, rye and barley are unusually green. Pastures and meadows also show more color than normal at this time of year. An unusual amount of January plowing was accomplished.

Winter work generally is well advanced on Pennsylvania farms. Repair of buildings and equipment is continuing in many localities. Supplies of wood for fuel were replenished and much progress made in cutting trees for timber.

Orchardists of Pennsylvania are busy trimming trees and getting equipment in shape for the coming season. In Lancaster county the stripping of tobacco was well advanced by the first of the month and a few sales had been reported.

February Auto Crashes Decrease

Only 17 Accidents, In Which Five Were Injured, Reported Last Month

Three hundred and sixty two patrols, or separate trips, were made during February by State police located in New Castle, which covered a distance of 7,215 miles, in the interest of law enforcement and crime prevention.

Among the trips were those which required investigations of 17 accidents, in which five persons were injured. For the same period last year, five persons were killed and 15 injured, hence there was a big decrease in fatalities and injured during last month of this year.

Property damage in the 17 accidents totaled $9,676.

Most accidents occurred between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Most crashes (8) occurred on U.S. Route 422.

No time of day or night was free of accident.

One hundred and twelve persons were arrested by State police last month for violation of the motor laws.

They also answered 68 complaints or requests for assistance received at the substation, out of which there were 12 criminal arrests, which were, four for burglary, four for larceny, two for vagrancy, one for surety of the peace, and one for disorderly conduct.

Officers Installed In Ceremonies At St. George Church

Public Installations Of Officers Of Various Organizations Take Place

On February 27, at 3:00 p.m., in the office and the school room of the St. George Greek Orthodox church, a public installation of all the officers of the Ahepa, Daughters of Penelope, Maids of Athens and the Sons of Pericles took place amid a large gathering of friends and relatives and different members of each auxiliary.

There was a large assembly of notables from the different chapters from other cities present. Those attending were: Miss Margaret Velis, district marshal; Daughters of Penelope, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Pota Saratsis, district governor of the Daughters of Penelope, Miss Evelyn Mickles, grand treasurer of Daughters of Penelope, Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Mary Vasilakis, district governor of the Maids of Athens; Miss Cornelia Karas, lieutenant governor and district secretary and treasurer of the Maids of Athens; Dr. Peter P. Paulus, district governor of Ahepa of Pittsburgh, attended and was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Installation Opens
Speer Aslanes, retiring president of the Ahepa opened the installation and Chaplain John Katakis read the invocation.

Each officer of the different auxiliaries were escorted to the altar by Warden Peter Brown. Dr. Paulus presented them with their oath of office and their officer's charge. He then presented each officer with his jewel for his proper office.

The following officers were installed: The Ahepa Chapter 87, president, Nick Lucas; vice-president, Gregory Christos; secretary, Speer Marousis; treasurer, George Marousis; governors, Speer Aslanes, chairman, Louis Thomas, George Pappas, Thomas Zazanis and Peter Anderson; chaplain, John Katakis, and warden, Mike Manos; captain of the guard, Peter Brown; sentinel, Thomas Borovilos.

Officers installed for the Daughters of Penelope were: president, Mrs. Kate Koginos; vice-president, Mrs. George Papazickos; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Lestas and treasurer, Mrs. John Mitos; guard, Mrs. Helen Valasis; board of governors, Mrs. Speer Marousis and Mrs. Thomas Zazanis; marshal, Mrs. Mike Manos; sentinels, Mrs. Gregory Christos and Mrs. Lambrene Karidis.

Officers installed for the Sons of Pericles were: president, Chris Papazickos; vice-president, George Koginos; secretary, Manuel Koginos; treasurer, Chris Mitos and sentinel, George Manos.

Officers installed for the Maids of Athens were worthy maid, Fannie Othitis; loyal maid, Alpeza Zazanis; secretary, Eugenia Othitis; treasurer, Helen Papazickos; phys-lax, Sophie Giacomakis; delphis, Helen Christos, and sentinel, Athena Giacomakis.

Remarks By Visiting Notables
After the installation ceremonies, Past President Speer Aslanes called on the visiting notables for a few remarks, and they responded graciously.

Rev. Papanicolaou gave a short speech. Dr. Paulus gave a speech on the aims and the tremendous work the Ahepa has ahead of it. Chaplain John Katakis closed the meeting with a prayer and the meeting adjourned.

Later in the dining room of the church a buffet lunch was served by the ladies of the church.

Seek Protection For State Workers

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—Civil Service protection for State employees after one year on the State payroll was called for by the Pennsylvania State Employees Council (AFL).

Such employees would be accorded, under the council's plan, regular status and would benefit from systematic and meritorious salary increases plus longevity pay.

Other planks in the council program urged time and a half pay for overtime work and uninterrupted pay for at least one year for State employees injured in the line of duty.

The council also proposed elimination of penalties for strikes by public employees and urged appointment of a full-time director of the State Civil Service Commission as proposed by law.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CEF

Hans Wagner, all-time star shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates, says he once made an inside-the-park home run in the following remarkable manner. He sent a screaming liner out toward the center field fence. The guardian of that territory attempted to make a leaping catch, but unfortunately, his belt got caught on a nail in the fence.

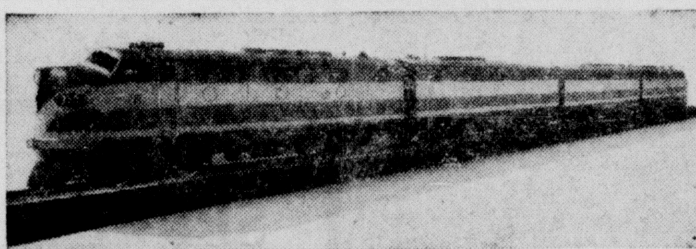

While he hung suspended in mid-air, his feet dangling helplessly, the great Hans circled the bases to the wild plaudits of the crowd.

When Olsen and Johnson went to Hollywood to do the film version of "Hellzapoppin'," a zealous studio press agent arranged for them to throw custard pies at each other for the benefit of the newspapers and the local press. Olson and Johnson okayed the plan but changed the scenario a bit at the last moment. When the press agent signalled "Go," the two of them seized their pies and smacked them right into the astonished face of the press agent himself. One of the newspapers printed a picture of the gory scene with the caption: "Custard's Last Stand."

State Capitol

Seeks New Raise
For LegislatorsState Senator Introduces
Bill To Double Mileage
Allowed To Legislators

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—Senate Majority Leader John M. Walker, of Allegheny, who joined colleagues during the 1947 session in voting themselves $100 a month "expense accounts" in connection with their legislative duties, has authored a new wrinkle to compensate lawmakers. . . . He has started on its way through the legislature a bill to double the present five cents a mile allowed legislators for traveling expenses to and from the state capitol when the General Assembly is in session. . . . The additional cost to the taxpayer would be $51,500 a session. . . . The mileage rate has not been changed since 1919. . . . No opposition is anticipated in the Senate or House but Governor Duff's reaction is not known. . . . No provision was made in the budget for the added expense. . . . The expense accounts added $619,200 a biennium to the legislature's cost.

House Speaker Herbert Sorg has a seven-year-old daughter who thinks her daddy is the nicest in the world. . . . She was willing to deprive herself of part of her allowance to prove it. . . . Unknown to the speaker, or his wife, pretty little Suzie Sorg saved about 25 cents a week to buy him a pen and pencil set. . . . The idea being that the speaker would use the pen to sign the legislation passing the General Assembly as required by law. . . . If the Sorg's other two children get a similar idea, the speaker will have to establish some system of pen rotation so as not to undermine the children's faith in his impartiality.

Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R) Philadelphia and Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D) Lawrence don't see eye to eye on reporting bills. . . . When Kephart reported a bill with a favorable recommendation to allow local option voting on certain Sunday sports, Neff told Lieut. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler, the Senate's presiding officer, that the committee had not met. . . . Kephart didn't deny the statement but said Neff had agreed in a personal poll to reporting the measure. . . . Neff, a Lawrence county labor leader, denied any agreement but Strickler turned in a decision for Kephart.

The only man who has not budged from the pressure of Governor Duff's lieutenants is Senate Highways Committee Chairman John G. Snowden (R) Lycoming. . . . Since passing the House February 15, the veteran Senator has roosted firmly on the administration bill despite the repeated pleas of Duff's floor leaders for quick action. . . . The bill was supposed to be reported this week but Snowden crossed up his colleagues and delayed action until at least next Monday.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 4.—If you would like your faith restored in the sanctity of the American home then you ought to get a load of the Dan Duryeas.

On the screen Duryea is known as the heel with sex appeal. He can clip a dame in the kisser with more finesse than any heavy in the movie dodge.

But in private life Duryea probably is the most devoted father and family man in Hollywood.

Nothing Elaborate
The tall, quiet-spoken blond guy lives with his wife and two young sons in an unpretentious house high in the Hollywood hills. By movietown standards the Duryea domicile is not at all flashy. They don't even have a swimming pool. There is only one automobile in their garage.

And Duryea, the meanest menace in the business today, spends most of his spare time as a Cub Scout official, an active member of a North Hollywood parent-teachers association and a benign bulwark of his immediate community.

The Duryeas reside in an isolated settlement on Mulholland Drive off picturesque Laurel Canyon, along with nine other families. The neighborhood's activities are unique for the nation and for Hollywood they are downright unbelievable.

Owens Bulldozer
Dan possesses a pint-sized bulldozer, which he navigates around his neighbor's terrain when they need some landscaping. Various neighbors take turns acting as baby-sitters for other families during the week.

One family owns a swimming pool, and all the kids in the area use it regularly. Mamas in the vicinity take weekly turns driving all the children to school. And every Friday night the Duryeas stage a movie show in their living room for about 30 small fry.

Last time we dropped by to chew the fat with the screen's "laziest, good-for-nothing heel" he was out in the back yard hooking up a small cement-mixer to the engine of his tiny bulldozer. Dan was getting ready to pour the foundation of a brick workshop in one corner of his hillside hacienda.

Everybody Helps
Next week a neighbor across the street will borrow the equipment to make some improvements on his own property—and Dan and other citizens will pitch in, as usual, with the labor.

Dan is one of the hottest slap-dame-around gents in movie history. His fan mail oscillates around the 3,000-letters-a-week mark. The billet-doux are virtually all from females. A psychiatrist probably would tell you that he is so popular as a screen heel because most women actually enjoy being pushed around.

Since Sam Goldwyn imported Duryea to Hollywood from Broadway in 1941 for "The Little Foxes", Dan has portrayed a malicious meanie in nearly 30 pictures.

Knocks Doty Cold
In his latest he knocks Dorothy Lamour cold two times with terrific haymakers on the button. And in his next two flickers he also will be a woman-beater.

His picture portrayals are so dastardly, in fact, that he has never allowed his two sons—Pete, 9, and Dick, 7—to watch poppa perform on the screen. He devotes every extra minute to his home. If ever Hollywood awarded Oscars for the town's finest family man, the former Philadelphia and New York advertising gent would be a certain shoe-in to knock off the first prize.

Put a quarter pound of ham, a quarter pound of snappy yellow cheese, and a third cup of pecans, walnuts or filberts through the food chopper; moisten with cooked salad dressing and use as a sandwich filling.

Downward Trend Is Reported In Deaths
From Appendicitis

Death Rate Of Appendicitis Drops
To One Quarter What It Was Ten Years Ago

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 4.—The death rate from appendicitis has dropped to only one quarter what it was ten years ago, the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company report.

This is based upon the experience among the company's millions of industrial policyholders. The appendicitis death rate for these insured was 2.7 per 100,000 in 1947-1948, as compared with 11.1 in 1937-1938.

The downward trend in appendicitis deaths has continued without interruption throughout the decade and for a number of years before, the statisticians observe, and it is believed that the toll from the disease will be reduced still further in the immediate future.

Important Factor

Declines in the appendicitis death rate are noted for each sex and at every age period, although the reduction was found to be slightly more rapid among the females than among the males. Use of the sulfas and penicillin in cases complicated by peritonitis has been an important factor in bringing about the improvement in the appendicitis record, according to the statisticians.

"Cases complicated by peritonitis still are subject to a much higher mortality risk," the statisticians comment. "In order to reduce the frequency of such cases seek medical care without delay it is necessary to continue the educational program urging people to and warning them against the use of laxatives in the presence of abdominal pain."

Junior Red Cross Program Benefits World's Children

Receive Thank You Letters From Polish Recipients Of Gift Boxes Packed Here

The first "thank you" letters to be received by the Junior Red Cross in Lawrence county from students in Europe have arrived, announced Miss Emma Maxwell, Junior Red Cross chairman.

Miss Helen Workley, Junior Red Cross teacher-sponsor of Wurtemburg school, received three letters from Poland. Each speaks the writer's gratitude for gift boxes which were sent last Christmas season by Lawrence county school children. The letters are pathetic in their appreciation for even a part of a gift box. Quoting from a letter dated January 3, 1949 from Warsaw, Poland, the child writes, "I am 11 years old. I received one thing of your package only because in our school there are 75 children, but we received five packages only."

Lawrence County Juniors packed and sent 485 gift boxes to European children this past Christmas. One UNESCO official is quoted as stating that these Junior Red Cross gift boxes are the best media for promoting understanding and good will from United States to Europe.

City Schools 100 Per Cent
The American Junior Red Cross is the Red Cross in the schools. The New Castle and Ellwood City schools are enrolled in Junior Red Cross 100 per cent. The county schools are enrolled 85 per cent. The Juniors are learning the principals of community national and international service through their own organization. At Christmas the Juniors brought many hours of cheer to hospitalized children in the three Lawrence County hospitals by their gifts and gaily decorated Christmas trees. Thousands of clever and original tray favors were made by the Juniors and distributed to bed patients at Deshon each holiday this past year. The patients expressed their happiness at having these reminders of their own kid brothers and sisters around them.

Teach Home Nursing
In manual training classes at George Washington Junior High, Juniors are making aluminum ash trays, checker boards and cribbage boards. The girls are making quilted bedroom slippers. These items too will go to federal hospitals throughout the country.

Home nursing classes are regularly taught the Junior girls see that they will know the basic essentials of home care of the sick. Junior Life Saving and Junior First Aid classes go on routinely with many hundreds of children proudly displaying their Red Cross emblems.

Believing that the best First Aid is prevention of the accident, a Junior Accident Prevention course is currently in progress. Twenty-nine students representing different schools are banded together as "Youth on Guard Against Accidents." The motto of the Junior Red Cross is "We Serve," and daily in our schools throughout the county they are demonstrating their motto to the world.

Legion Auxiliary Plans To Meet

The American Legion auxiliary will meet Monday evening, March 7, for their regular business and initiation of new members.

President, Mrs. Ethel Murphy, has sent out advance notices for donations of men's white cotton socks, which is a county council project and which should be brought or sent to the meeting. These are greatly needed in the hospitals and this month will be sent to the Deshon hospital in Butler.

Industrialist's Wife Files Divorce Suit

Divorce Action Filed In Circuit Court At Sarasota, Florida

SARASOTA, Fla., March 4.—(INS)—Mrs. Mildred Gaylord has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Robert M. Gaylord, Rockford, Ill., industrialist and former president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The action was filed in circuit court at Sarasota.

Mrs. Gaylord charged cruelty, alleging in her petition that her husband exhibited a "reluctance" to accompany her in public places, and adding that this situation had become so noticeable that even her friends had commented on it. Her action further charged that Gaylord told her in 1947 that he was "wholly without love" for her and did not wish to continue living as man and wife.

She accused Gaylord of living apart from her for more than a year.

The couple has three grown sons and a daughter.

Gaylord was elected president of the NAM in 1943.

Couple Indicted For Defrauding

Accused Of Failing To Pay Egg Producers For Parts Of Shipments

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.—(INS)—John C. Faust and his wife Cora, of Ephrata, Pa., were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of defrauding turkey egg producers and the Railway Express Co. Bench warrants were issued for their arrest.

The Lancaster county couple, who operate a huge hatchery, were accused of failing to pay the egg producers for large portions of shipments.

Post office inspectors asserted the Fausts also made false claims on the Railway Express for "damages" to eggs in transit.

Most of the 45 complainants were said to be residents of Texas.

IN THE OPEN

A raft of redheads had taken over the long inlet at the head of the dam. When I came along they were busy feeding on the bottom among beds of eel grass and water weed. They disported themselves like a gang of small boys at the old swimming hole and paid little attention to me after first making sure I could get no closer than the shore line.

There were perhaps 25 ducks in this group, which had been lucky enough to weather the barages of pot hunters along the Chesapeake flats and was now on its way to northern nesting grounds. The redhead is an excellent diver, and I watched for a long time as they pushed against those big webbed feet and went up and over in quick plunges. The surfacing ducks stirred up more commotion than those going below.

The bright rufous head of the male redhead is unmistakable if the light is right, although for many years I confused this duck with the slope-headed canvasback. They were still actively feeding when I passed that way a few hours later, probably stoking up for a hop to some hidden lake farther north.

Spring Beauty Blossoms

In the open woods back of the reservoir I was surprised to come across several full blown blossoms of the Spring beauty. Perhaps this fragile bloom has shown itself as early in years gone by, but in my experience to find it up and doing on February 26 is certainly a record.

I have been concerned as to the fate of the big pileated woodpeckers which showed up in my hiking country a year or so ago. Recently there has been no sign of these wary fellows along the timber trails and I had feared that some of our trigger-happy sportsmen had cut them down.

While I was traversing the sunny open woods the Spring beauties were rushing the season, one of these big log-cocks set up a querulous scolding from somewhere on the ridge directly "in the sun." These birds are quite rare hereabouts and I was pleased to know that at least one is still in the neighborhood.

There was no chance of getting between the sun and the ridge where the bird was complaining. The only thing to do was try a direct approach and take a chance on getting a good look at the great crow-sized "Indian hen" before he slipped away. The sun was high enough to black out most of the ridge in dazzling glare, but the complaining continued and I kept on advancing.

Finally the noisy cackling subsided. I waited by a huge maple for some time, but there was no further outcry, and when a lone hiker came along, exercising a dog, I knew that the big bird had been

Chewinks Announce Selves

Earlier in the day I had tried for some evidence of these big woodpeckers in a timbered valley far distant from the woods where the log-cock had scolded. Here in a sheltered feeding ground a pair of chewinks had passed the Winter and were announcing themselves for my benefit. I also heard the sorrowful lament of the mourning dove, whose lonesome call is another of the manifold signs that the good days of the spring tide lie close ahead.

Against the far shore of another dam five large birds rode high at anchor. They were too far away for my bifocals but they were certainly too big for ducks. I stopped at an opening for a good look at these fellows when three of them took off in the reach-out flight pattern of the Canada goose. The other two followed shortly after and in a moment or two the whole group came skidding along overhead, talking among themselves as they headed across the ridge to the peace and quiet of a neighboring reservoir.

The countrymen suddenly realize that March has pushed its way once more into the limelight. An amazing Winter, hardly worthy of the name hereabouts, is almost over. The ancients placed March in their calendar as the first month of the year and it continued to be the beginning of the legal year in England until the 18th century.

The Romans named the month for their god of war, and as a result its gem is the sanguinary bloodstone. The Anglo-Saxons knew it as the "lengthening month" and watched the days grow longer as the vernal equinox neared. The countryman knows March as persistent only in its verbiage, and prepared to enjoy himself awhile, come what may.

Judge Excuses Juror To See New Twins

BOSTON, March 4.—(INS)—Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr. opened federal court Thursday by announcing: "The first business of this court is to congratulate the juror who has twins. He is excused from duty."

"What's that, your honor?" The judge smiled and Cardozo, who was awaiting a jury assignment, grabbed his hat and headed for Winthrop Community hospital where his wife had presented him with twin girls.

In the Civil War, New York state sent 484,260 soldiers, about one-sixth of the Union Army.

Education By Radio With FM Network Before Legislature

Educational Network Is Proposed For Teaching Of In-School Material

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—Public school education by radio today was a step nearer reality.

Pennsylvania's "teen-agers" may have their hair-raising radio shows every evening and all day Sunday but the public instruction department intends to use frequency modulation radio for in-school teaching of "instructional" material.

Rep. Robert D. Fleming, (R) of Allegheny, introduced a measure in the House of Representatives with department backing to provide nearly a million dollars to set up a state-wide educational FM network.

Meanwhile, state educational leaders envisioned the next big objective—television in every classroom.

Class room radio and Cideo, educators point out, are not intended to, nor will they replace today's school marm—they are useful, modern tools in the teacher's hands.

The Fleming bill called for an appropriation of $825,000 for the public instruction department to hire a radio engineering firm, buy

The plan is to set up a master station at Harrisburg with approximately 12 booster stations along the line throughout the state to be under the supervision of a new division of radio and audio-visual education in the public instruction department.

Women Of Moose Plan Scholarship

Mrs. Agnes Fisher, senior regent, presided Wednesday evening when Women of the Moose held their regular meeting.

The group has agreed to sponsor and pay for a scholarship to be awarded to a Pennsylvania boy, who is a resident of Mooseheart, to enable him to attend college. This particular boy has completed his elementary and high school education at Mooseheart and teachers there feel he is qualified to go on to college. It is through the generosity of the New Castle Women of the Moose that he will be able to do so.

At a meeting in the near future the Women of the Moose will be privileged to hear a prominent doctor of New Castle speak on the Cancer society. He will tell of the work being done by the local and national societies and will also show movies on this subject.

The next meeting will be March 16 and will be Social Service Chapter Night, at which time there will be initiation of new candidates. The meeting will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stella Palmer, who is chairman over all social service and charitable projects. Her committee consists of Mrs. Sue Pander, Mrs. Cleo Krah and Mrs. Huldah Doerr. At the March meeting Mrs. Palmer will give a complete report on all charitable work done by the organization this year.

The flamingo feeds upon small aquatic animals which live in the mud of lagoons. It stirs the mud with its feet, and, reversing the ordinary position of its head, holding the crown downward and looking backward, it sifts the mud through its bill, which acts as a sieve.

Whitman Returns From Convention

New Wilmington Principal Back From Meeting of School Heads of Nation

(Special to The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, March 4.—Walter Whitman, supervising principal of schools here, returned yesterday from Chicago where he attended a convention of secondary school principals at the Stevens hotel.

The Garden club will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. E. A. Sittig, New Castle street. Mrs. Herbert Smith will be the speaker and her subject will be "Why Not American Flowers for American Gardens?" Mrs. Thomas James and Mrs. T. L. Fulmer will be associate hostesses. Roll call will be answered with names of native American flowers.

Mrs. Ralph Peabody is visiting her daughter, Miss Ada Peabody, Market street. Mrs. Peabody had been at her home at Rapid City, S. D., for several months and had also visited relatives at Carlinville, Ill.

Mrs. William C. Hille has resigned her position as organist at the U. P. church. She and her husband are moving to Pittsburgh. Both are recent graduates of Westminster college.

The junior class of the high school is sponsoring a dance at the Community hall Friday evening. Proceeds will be used to defray costs of the Junior-Senior class banquet.

A sound motion picture will be presented by the New Wilmington Sabbath School association Sunday evening at 8 in the Methodist church. The work of the American Mission to Lepers will be depicted.

A sign of spring is the announcement by the Cub Scouts that they will hold a kite flying contest March 19 at 2 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for the smallest kite, the largest, the most original, the one with the longest tail and the one which will fly the greatest distance.

Says Single A-Bomb Could Kill 100,000 Persons In N. Y.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—A member of the joint congressional atomic energy committee warned today that a single atomic bomb dropped off Manhattan island would kill more than 100,000 New Yorkers and "immobilize" the skyscraper area with radioactivity for months.

Rep. Holifield (D) Calif., said that similar results from the deadly radioactivity could be anticipated elsewhere.

He said that one bomb could "knock out" any one of the following strategic points:

Pearl Harbor and the Panama canal, the naval installations at Mare island and a major portion of San Francisco, the downtown loop section of Chicago and its strategically vital railroad yards, and a good part of Washington, D. C.

Holifield charged that the military is seeking to lull the people into a false sense of security by refusing to make public the destructive effects of the bombs' radioactivity as revealed at the Bikini bomb tests, at which he was an official observer.

He declared in an interview that the radioactive effects of the A-bomb were much more deadly than damage it accomplished through concussion and fire.

Jobless Payments Show Decrease

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black today reported unemployment benefits paid jobless workers and veterans totaled $2,418,093 during the week ended February 25.

Disbursements to unemployed workers amounted to $1,583,230 during the period, a decline of $93,096 from the preceding week, Black said.

Payments to veterans under the servicemen's readjustment act totaled $834,863 during the week, a drop of $33,381 from the previous week, he added.

List Of Possible Murder Victims Reported Growing

LONDON, March 4.—(INS)—Scotland Yard admitted today it is holding a man in connection with Britain's most "ghastly, grisly, mass-murder case in years and said the list of the possible victims is growing.

Legal experts immediately conferred with the public prosecutor's office after police received word that the unidentified "acid bath" killer may have slain eight persons, two more than believed yesterday.

It is reported that the legal conferences concerned charging the man now in custody with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McSwan, and their son, Donald Jr. The whole family vanished three years ago.

Yard officials said their suspect made numerous statements "under questioning."

Earlier, police said they discovered evidence that a man identified as Guy Potter—an industrial engineer who disappeared last October—was among the victims of the slayer.

Scotland Yard was reported searching for the suspect's partner, who officials said disappeared ten months ago. Yard authorities said that before the man vanished he invented a "silent electric road drill" worth $2,200,000.

Quarrel With Wife No Problem For Japanese Doctor

TOKYO, March 4.—(INS)—A Japanese doctor outlined his method of ending a quarrel with his wife.

Shigeo Miyata, who's also a painter, participated in a round-table conference sponsored by Josei-No-Tomo or "Women's Companion" magazine. Asked what he did in case of a quarrel with Mrs. Miyata, he replied:

"I become very violent. But of late, because the children have grown, I try to control myself to a certain extent."

"Experience shows the best way is to set fire to the shoji (paper sliding doors)."

"The flames spring up and unless the wife puts them out a real fire will start. So she makes a fuss, gives up the quarrel and apologizes."

(Japan's construction bureau revealed this week that 23,000 homes were burned down in 1948.)

Enrollment At Craftsmen's School Is Now Near 600

Enrollment at the Terrace School for Craftsmen, Terrace avenue, has jumped to 569, said director Lynn H. Luxenberg today.

Peak enrollment for its latest beginning class, which started Feb. 15, has made necessary additional shops and instructors.

In a little over two years the Terrace school, which is this area's only school for carpentry, cabinet-making and upholstery, has become one of the nation's largest and outstanding institutions of its kind.

When Is Holiday Not A Holiday?

BRADFORD, Pa., March 4.—(INS)—When is a holiday not a holiday?

The matter came up when a motorist complained of receiving a parking ticket on George Washington's birthday even though the parking meters in Bradford have a sign reading "Not in use on holidays."

Police maintained that Washington's birthday was not a legal holiday because not all retail stores were closed.

The Retail Merchants Bureau, however, has demanded that all fines collected on Washington's birthday be returned, and that Bradford observe February 22 and every other holiday so far as parking meters are concerned.

Memorial Forest Bill Introduced

HARRISBURG, March 4.—(INS)—A memorial forest with a shrine for Pennsylvania's "unknown soldier" was proposed in a bill sponsored by Rep. Robert F. Kent (R), Crawford.

The Kent bill would authorize the department of forests and waters to acquire a 40,000-acre tract of state game lands in upper Dauphin and Lebanon counties for establishment as a "veterans' memorial forest."

The measure also proposed a veterans cemetery at an appropriate location on the memorial grounds with a tomb for the "unknown soldier of Pennsylvania."

The department would be authorized to develop the shrine and purchase up to 75,000 acres of adjoining land under a $200,000 appropriation.

Fashion Flash!

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 4.—(INS)—New York hair stylists predicted today that women will wear their hair in "pyramid shapes" next fall.

Experts at Chantel Hairdressers describe the new process this way:

"Part the hair outward and down from the center-back of the crown, forming a triangular shape. Then pull the side hair back severely—and form it into cascades of curls which fall to the neck line in triangular shape."

This severe coiffure, adaptable to long or short haircuts, is designed to stimulate the "pyramid shape" of dresses: sloping shoulders above subtly-flaring skirts.

Authorities estimate that about 44,000 lightning storms occur daily throughout the world.

Army Signal Corps Develops Midget Radio Receiver

So Compact That It Will Fit Into A King-Size Cigarette Package

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J., March 4.—(INS)—The Army Signal Corps announced the development of an 11-ounce midget radio receiver and sender so compact it can fit into a king-size cigarette package.

By comparison, the famous, six-pound "Handie Talkie" of World War Two is made to seem a clumsy giant.

Announcement of the new midget two-way radio was made on the 36th anniversary of the Signal Corps.

According to the corps, the cigarette-size "trans-receiver" an experimental model will send and receive messages over distances greater than 200 yards.

It can be "tropicallyized" to withstand jungle moisture and fungus. When sealed, it is water-proof and can be carried through surf in beachhead landings.

Carettes All Paris

The Signal Corps said it believes the "Tiny Tim" of military radios is the only one of its size in the world that contains in one package all necessary component parts including the power supply.

All are contained in a tiny metal case that is only one inch thick, two and a quarter inches across the base and three and a half inches high.

The remarkably small set, designed by George E. Colman, Red Bank, N. J., an engineer employed by the Signal Corps, also has a built-in speaker and microphone.

The lid of the radio case opens slightly to become the bell of the speaker and the opening through which the voice messages reach the microphone.

Oil from porpoises was used to oil watches until the past few years, when synthetic product supplanted it.

Refuses $34,000

KNOWN as the "Maid of Athens" in the Greek Resistance during the war, Liana Kremezi (above) made history in a London court by accepting $8,000 in love balm from Lt. Comm. Thomas G. Ridgeway although she had been awarded $42,000. The couple met in Athens in 1946 and became engaged. When the naval officer wrote to her from London in 1947 breaking the engagement, she flew to see him but was jailed and then deported. Later, the girl was permitted to return and sue him. ## Truman, Churchill To Jointly Discuss World's Statesmen

Successes And Failures Of This Century's Statesmen To Be Topic

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(INS)—President Truman and Winston Churchill will jointly discuss the successes and failures of the world's statesmen during this century at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology March 31 and April 1.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, of M.I.T., said at the White House today that the former prime minister will discuss the "aspirations, failures and successes of statesmen in the first half of the century."

He said he had suggested to the president that his address "look ahead" to the world's progress in the last half of the century.

The president and Churchill will appear on the platform at a special convocation at M.I.T., in Boston, on the "impact of science on the world at mid-century."

Churchill will speak on March 31. The president will speak the following day.

With Germany's Rhineland needle factories destroyed, by block-busters and Japan's by the atom bomb at Hiroshima in wartime, England now supplies most of the 10,000,000 needles the world uses annually, London reports.

1949 DeSoto Will Be Shown Saturday

Morgan Motor Co. Will Display 1949 Edition Of Completely Transformed DeSoto

First glimpses of the completely transformed DeSoto for 1949 in the showrooms of the Morgan Motor Company, 217 North Jefferson street, Saturday, March 5, will thrill every member of the family when the car's modern beauty is viewed. Introduced under the appealing slogan, "The car designed with you in mind," the new DeSoto will sell itself with little inspection from the buying public.

Positively new from bumper to bumper, 1949 DeSoto has been designed throughout with the thought of comfort and safety in mind as well as eye appeal to the discriminate motorist. The longer wheelbase was created with the idea to cushion the passengers between the axles instead of over them. With the longer wheelbase, the overall length is slightly reduced while wider seats in the new models result in a smaller width. Leg and headroom, too, have been increased.

The handsome chrome trim on fenders and other body parts protects the sleek body from scrapes and dents. Fenders can be quickly removed for economical repair and are so designed for quick tire change or installation of chains in winter. Visibility has been greatly increased while other safety factors include grouping of instrument panel and black lighting of control dials to eliminate glare.

A personal visit to the Morgan Motor Co. showrooms will enable future DeSoto owners to leisurely inspect the many improvements that limited space forbids to tell.

Good Taste By FRANCINE MARKEL

OUT-OF-TOWN BRIDESMAID

"I am to have an out-of-town friend act as bridesmaid at my wedding. She will stay at a nearby hotel. Must I assume her expenses while she is there?"

Answer: This responsibility is usually assumed by the family of the bride. It is hardly fair to ask the young woman to pay these expenses when her trip is made to suit her convenience.

Out-of-town bridesmaids and maid-of-honor to be entertained by your family, if possible.

If you have no room for them in your home, it would be in good taste for some of your relatives or intimate friends living in your city to take them in for the night before the wedding. If you can make no such arrangement, your attendants will then have to stay at a hotel.

Although your family should pay the hotel expenses of your wedding attendants, the guests, if they stay at a hotel, should pay their own.

If the bridegroom's parents live in the town in which the wedding is to take place, they should arrange for the entertainment of the best man or ushers who come from distant points.

Question: Is it appropriate for the best man in a wedding ceremony to purchase flowers for the attendants?

Answer: It is never the duty of the best man to supply any flowers for the wedding except those for decorative purposes in the church and the place where the reception will take place. These latter are contributed by the bride's family.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Report Farm Wage Rate Up For 1948

Rates Paid By State Farmers Reported To Be Up Eight Per Cent To Raise Food Costs

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Wage rates paid by Pennsylvania farmers continued to rise during the year 1948, increasing nearly eight per cent, thereby adding to the cost of food production, State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst declared today.

Between January 1, 1948 and the first of this year the average rate paid per hour, without room or board, advanced from 65 cents to 72 cents, the Secretary said.

A Federal-State survey revealed. For workers engaged by the day the rate jumped from $5.30 to $5.70.

Many Pennsylvania hired farm workers receive board or use of house along with other things furnished in addition to money, the secretary explained. During 1948 the average pay per month with board and room advanced from $80 to $90.

Hired farm workers who are supplied with a house on the farm this January 1 were receiving an average of $117 a month in cash. A year earlier the average was $107.

Many such workers receive fuel, milk, garden and other produce as part payment for their labor, in addition to cash.

Wage rates per week with board and room this January averaged $23.25 compared with $22 a year earlier. Weekly payments without board or room advanced during the year from $30.25 to $32.50.

As of December 1, 1948 farm operators were averaging 11.2 hours per day a year earlier. Hired hands were putting in 9.3 hours per day against 9.6 a year earlier.

Cleveland Indians Appear Headed For Another Flag

By JOHN BARRINGTON
NEW YORK, March 4.—If pennants were won on paper, the Cleveland Indians would be home free today and the American League could spend the summer fishing.

In two all-important criteria, power and strength down the middle, the Indians stand out, even as they do in discussions of pitching.

Take the potential starting lineup—Jim Hegan, c; Mickey Vernon, 1b; Joe Gordon, 2b; Manager Lou Boudreau, ss; Ken Keltner, 3b; Dale Mitchell, lf; Larry Doby, cf, and Allie Clark or Hank Edwards, rf.

Every one of those men is a power hitter. All but Vernon are holdovers from the team that led the league in batting last year and hit 155 home runs, an average of one per game. Gordon had 32 homers, Keltner 31, Boudreau 18 and Doby 14.

Hegan Best Catcher
Down the middle, Hegan rates as the league's best catcher, Gordon and Boudreau convinced the skeptics that they are the top key-stone combination, and Doby needs concede an edge to nobody except Joe DiMaggio, and possibly his brother, Dom.

Boston can challenge the "down-the-middle" standard with Dom DiMaggio in center, and with Bobby Doerr and Vern Stephens functioning at second and short. But the aging Birdie Tebbets is no Hegan behind the plate.

The Red Sox, despite sluggers like Ted Williams, the perennial league swatting champion, Doerr and Stephens, were not better than third last year in club batting, total bases and home runs.

The Yankees, with Joe DiMaggio setting his $100,000 pace were runners-up to the Indians in all major offensive departments. But the Yankees were bargain basement marksmen behind the plate and at second base last year.

Behind those three powerhouse clubs, the batting records tailed off sharply. None of the remaining clubs seem to have added appreciably to their batting strength.

The Browns expect to enjoy a full year of Dick Kokos and Hank Arft, who were rather flamboyantly mad at the plate after being promoted from Toledo in mid-season. Detroit touts outfielder Johnny Groth as the rookie of the year but is getting tired of expecting Dick Wakefield to live up to early expectations.

The weak-sticking Athletics of Connie Mack have added Taft Wright, the faded White Sox hitting star, and Coaker Triplett, veteran minor league slugger.

Chicago can count its "power" on two fingers—one for Pat Seerey, who fans as often as he connects, and the other 40-year-old Luke Appling, who still hits but no longer for distance.

Hall Of Fame For Basketball

Site Will Be Springfield College Where Dr. James Naismith Originated Game

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 4.—(INS)—Basketball is to have a Hall of Fame where the game originated.

The site is to be a memorial building at Springfield college, to be erected in memory of Dr. James Naismith, founder of the game.

Edward Hickox, member of the college Advisory board, in making the announcement said the building would be similar to that of the baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Original Equipment
He said a board would be selected to place the names of basketball's all-time "greats" in the hall. The building will house the hoop game's original equipment and other trophies.

Dr. Naismith originated basketball in 1891. At that time he was director of athletics at Springfield college.

He played on this first team. It was composed of 14 men on each side. A peach basket and a volley ball were used in the first game.

Ben Hogan On Recovery Road

EL PASO, Tex., March 4.—(INS)—Bantam Ben Hogan was back blasting par again today after an emergency two-hour operation to alleviate a serious blood clot in his abdomen.

Dr. Alton Ochsner, noted New Orleans surgeon, said after the delicate operation that the king of the links was on the road to "complete recovery" and would be "on his feet in a few months."

The surgeon, who made a transcontinental flight to perform the operation, said Hogan's condition had been critical before the surgery.

Injured In Crash
The Texas pro was injured seriously in a head-on auto-bus collision east of El Paso Feb. 2 while en route from the Phoenix open. He was believed recovering when complications set in.

Dr. Ochsner said it was necessary last night to make an abdominal incision to tie off veins through which the clots had appeared. He explained:

"It was similar to turning off a water faucet. We removed the danger of any more clots and another could have been fatal."

Dr. Ochsner ordered blood transfusions and an immediate operation after he had made a pre-surgery examination.

'Operation Corn' Will Take Place Sunday, March 6

Aviation Enthusiasts And Sportsmen Prepare To Feed Wildlife From Air

PITTSBURGH, March 4.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania aviation enthusiasts and sportsmen were preparing today for "operation corn" to feed wildlife from the air.

The biggest project of its kind so far in the district, some 20 tons of feed will be dropped from airplanes next Sunday to game feeding in the area.

The plan is backed by the Pittsburgh Aero club, the National Guard, the Pennsylvania Aeronautics commission and the Civil Air patrol.

All Types of Planes
A squadron of all types and sizes of planes will take off from the Black Moshannon airport near Philipsburg and cover the area north of Black Moshannon including the Allegheny plateau.

A large DC-3 will carry a group of Washington county sportsmen on the flight. Use of the plane has been donated by All-American Airways.

Major Ken Long of the Pittsburgh Civil Air patrol will be in charge of a group of about a dozen light planes from Pittsburgh, and the National Guard will send its largest planes available on the mission.

Baseball officials are jittery over the Danny Gardella case, and steadfastly declined to discuss this situation which may turn out to be dynamite.

LATEST GAME: TOOTHPICK GOLF

NEWEST PARTY GAME to catch on in Hollywood is "toothpick golf." A toothpick held between the teeth is used to flip a bean across a rug and onto a coaster or other small, flat object. ## Joe Louis Makes Peace With Uncle Mike Jacobs

Milwaukee Sentinel Sports Writer (Distributed by International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, March 4.—Joe Louis "cleared it with Uncle Mike" when he turned in his world's heavyweight crown and switched to prize fight promotion.

The Brown Bomber said in a telephone interview from Miami Beach that he told Jacobs of his plans two days before his affiliation with the International Boxing Club. He added:

"Neither he, nor his partners, Harry Markson and Michael Strauss, made any counter proposals. All Jacobs said was: 'I have no kick coming.' If he said it once, he said it a half-dozen times."

Hopes for Agreement
Louis said he would "certainly have seriously considered" a proposal to join Jacobs in promotion plans and declared:

"In fact, I still have hopes of getting together with the 20th Century Club for some kind of working agreement. I am not out to fight Jacobs."

The Brown Bomber, who retired Tuesday and became a promoter in one fell swoop, said he would stage one fight at the Chicago Stadium before matching Ezzard Charles and Joe Walcott in a bout for his vacated title.

Signs Charles-Walcott
When asked whether he had the next champion sewed up, Louis chuckled:

"Well, I don't know who the next champion is going to be. But I do have exclusive two-year agreements with Charles and Walcott. Whoever wins has told me he'd box only for us (Louis, Arthur Wirtz and James Norris) the next two years. He'll fight either Lee Savold or Gus Lesnevich."

The ex-champion threw cold water on the idea he would follow Jim Jeffries' action in stepping down as titleholder, naming the two contenders and, then, refereeing the bout. He asserted it wouldn't be "the right thing" to referee and emphatically stated that "I'm strictly in the promotion business."

No More Fights
Joe said he is planning to work with English Promoter Jack Solomons on an exchange of fighters.

Rocket Sets Record

TRAVELING over 5,000 miles an hour, the "Wac Corporal," a two-stage rocket designed by the U. S. Army, is pictured in the above two photos as it left the launching ramp at the Army Ordnance proving grounds, White Sands, N. M. Built from a German V-2 and an American model, the rocket soared to an altitude of 250 miles. When the first rocket reached its peak the second continued on beyond the earth's outer space. (International)

SPORT SHORTS

There seems to be no secret about the fact that Manager Stengel is banking heavily on Reynolds and Lopat, both effective hurlers when right, and potential bolsters for the none too robust Yankee staff.

Veeck's Indians displaced the Yankees last season as world's and American League champions, with Boudreau practically putting on a one-man show. He was paid an estimated $50,000 in 1948.

Ray Meyer, the man who made George Mikan the greatest basketball player in America has signed a five-year contract to remain as coach and athletic director of De Paul university in Chicago.

Ed McKeever, wartime head coach of Notre Dame and last year's mentor of the professional Chicago Rockets, will drill the Louisiana State university backfired this fall.

The turnover in Pennsylvania's major coaching jobs this winter has been terrific. Duquesne, Villanova, Lafayette and Carnegie Tech either have hired new coaches or are in the market.

Of all the major league teams, the Pirates have been busiest since last year in dealing for new players in an effort to plug the leaks in their flagship.—They hope.

Opera Tenor Is Adjudged Father Of Singer's Baby

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, March 4.—(INS)—Ferruccio Tagliavini, 35, leading Metropolitan opera tenor, was adjudged father of singer Mary Phillips' 17-month-old daughter today.

The decision was handed down in special session court where Tagliavini has been on trial since February 15.

Justices William Northrop and Alfred J. Hoffman concurred. A dissenting vote was cast by Bernard Kozickie, the third of the three justices who have been hearing the case.

Miss Phillips, 28-year-old concert singer and poetess, who described her relationship with Tagliavini as "the strongest kind of love," listened with tears in her eyes as Justice Northrop announced the decision.

Hold Man After Bigamous Wife's Body Is Found

CLEVELAND, March 4.—(INS)—Raymond Howard Monroe, 25-year-old former theater usher, was held by police today after he admitted a bigamous marriage to Ruth Huntton, 17, whose body was recovered from the Chicago river Saturday.

Detective Lieut. David E. Kerr of the Cleveland Police department said that Monroe, confronted with the third of three women he allegedly married, last night admitted marrying the Huntton girl.

Meanwhile, the family of the dead girl, who met Monroe while working as a waitress in a Cleveland restaurant, has blamed the girl's death on her heartbreak upon learning that Monroe had a wife and two children in Hamilton, O.

Two New York Killers Die In Electric Chair

OSSINING, N. Y., March 4.—(INS)—Two men convicted of killing Benjamin (Chippy) Weiner while he was "baby-sitting" in his New York apartment, died in Sing Sing's electric chair last night.

Nelther Santo Bretagna, 28, nor William Rosenberg, 43, made last word statements. Bretagna was placed in the chair at 11:01 p. m. and closed his eyes, never to open them again. At 11:07 Rosenberg took the same seat.

Bretagna was named the actual killer of Weiner from whom Rosenberg reportedly tried vainly to collect a $500 debt. Weiner was slain Jan. 13, 1948 as he was tending his seven-month-old son in a lower East Side apartment.

Second Baptist To Have Installation

Officers of Second Baptist church for the coming year will be installed at the evening service Sunday, March 6, at 6 o'clock with Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, pastor of First Baptist church, conducting the installation ceremony.

Auto Dealers And Employees To Dine

New Castle Auto Dealers and Employees Association is planning a big banquet for the members and the bowling league, on April 23, it was announced today by General Chairman Wayne Harper. Plans for the banquet were discussed at a Tuesday dinner held at the Keystone-Chevrolet dining room.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

Mrs. Amy Gill will entertain members of the P. L. D. reading circle at their next meeting at the Elm street Y. W. C. A. At their last meeting at that place, Mrs. Carrie Ferguson was hostess. After devotions, the program was presented by Ethel Wall as follows: Group singing; papers, Ethel Wall, Mattie Webber, Carolyn Williams; talk, Elizabeth Thomas; current events, Ethel Wall. Following a social period, the hostess, assisted by Cora Duffin, Mary Clark and Elizabeth Thomas, served dainty refreshments.

Local prayer bands will have a Holy church this evening at 7:30 praise service in St. John's Unity o'clock, when Rev. S. J. Walker will speak. A short program, under auspices of the mothers' board, will also be given.

Miss Rosa Moore, West Falls street, will entertain the Senior Missionary society of Union Baptist church Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Pearl Mitchell was hostess, when trophies were awarded Mrs. L. Wilson, Mrs. L. Gaither and Mrs. Clifford Atwaters for a Bible quiz. Mrs. Mitchell served a dainty lunch.

Stewardess board of St. Luke's A.M.E. Zion church will sponsor a tea Sunday afternoon at the Parsonage.

HUMBLE PIE

Humble pie is pretty good for most people. Some seem to need it worse than others.

Pie stands up near the top of the list of our good things to eat. There are so many kinds of pie that most anyone may be suited.

Berry pie and peach pie and meat pie and apple pie and custard pie and pumpkin pie are just a few of many. Every kind is good except printers pi which nobody likes.

Since pie has just about everything. There are proteins and fat and starch and sugar and minerals and vitamins and odors and flavors and yum yum.

Custard pie and cream pie and pumpkin pie and lemon pie have nearly everything too.

Some people can make better pies than others but in this town if you get a good piece of pie, eat it.

GRANGE NEWS

Four Teams In NIT At Moment

NEW YORK, March 4.—(INS)—Added starters in the national invitation basketball tournament were expected to be named in the wake of a meeting by the invitation committee in New York today.

Four places remain vacant for the Madison Square Garden tourney, which begins a week from tomorrow. To date, Kentucky, St. Louis, Bradley and Western Kentucky universities have accepted bids.

An additional entry may have been established last night when Manhattan staged a thrilling finish to defeat City College of New York, 44 to 43, in one game of a Garden double header.

Also under consideration are San Francisco (21-5), Utah, (23-6), Loyola of Chicago (22-5), North Carolina State (22-8), Villanova (19-3) and Bowling Green (21-6).

Pafko, the Cubs, top outfielder and a strong batsman as well, signed in at what Cub officials called "a sizeable increase in pay" over his 1948 wage.
